Govt to accept panel report on increasing SC/ST reservation

Cabinet meet today; Quota will cross 50% limit set by Supreme Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state government on Friday decided to accept the Justice Nagamohan Das Committee's recommendation on increasing the reservation for Scheduled Castes (SC) from 15 per cent to 17 per cent and Scheduled Tribes (ST) from 3 to 7 per cent. A special cabinet meeting has been called on Saturday to accept the committee's recommendation. The changes will not adversely impact other communities, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Friday.

After chairing an all-party meeting, where it was unanimously decided to accept the committee's report, Bommai said that it was a long-pending demand. "After this comprehensive report was submitted two years ago, some judgements on reservation have been passed by various courts. We constituted the Justice Subhash Adi committee to look into the report and also the new court orders. It recommended increasing the 50 per cent limit on reservation as mentioned in the Indra Sawhney's case where the Supreme Court has pointed out that increasing reservation in special, extra-merit cases can be considered. We are studying reports from both committees and taking all communities into confidence. We have decided to increase the reservation for SC/STs," he said.

Law Minister JC Madhu Swamy said after the cabinet approves the committee report, it will be placed before the Assembly. "We will discuss in the cabinet as to how to bring it before the House... whether to pass a bill or a resolution," he added.

KG BALAKRISHNAN-LED PANEL TO STUDY STATUS OF DALIT CONVERTS

The Union government has set up a three-member Commission of Inquiry headed by former Supreme Court Chief Justice KG Balakrishnan to examine the issue of giving Scheduled Caste status to Dalits who converted to religions other than Sikhism and Buddhism. P10

BJP, AAP spar over pledge at Dalit conversion event

AMIT PANDEY @New Delhi

A video clip of a recent mass conversion of Dalits to Buddhism went viral as Hindu deities were denounced at the event here in the presence of AAP leader and Delhi social welfare minister Rajendra Pal Gautam. Coming as it did ahead of state elections in Gujarat and Haryana, the issue acquired political overtones.

With the issue snowballing, Gautam put out a late-night statement to clear the air and apologise. It came after AAP chief Arvind Kejriwal took a dim view of the controversy.

The clip showed Gautam and others taking a pledge saying, "We will not worship Hindu Gods and Goddesses... I shall have no faith in Brahma, Vishnu and Maheshwara, nor shall I worship them. I shall have no faith in Rama and Krishna, who are believed to be the incarnation of God..." In his damage limitation exercise, Gautam claimed, "I personally respect all the Gods and the Goddesses and would not even dream of insulting any deity through any action or word of mine."

Raj Ratan Ambedkar, the grandson of Dr BR Ambedkar and the president of Buddhist Society of India, which organised the gathering on Wednesday, was on the dais. Hundreds of Dalit Hindus converted to Buddhism. BSI treasurer ShashiKant Jadhav told TNIE that the oath was introduced by Dr BR Ambedkar.

BJP claimed the event was an insult to both Hinduism and Buddhism. BJP MP Manoj Tiwari alleged that Gautam was trying to incite riots through the event. Delhi BJP chief Adesh Gupta on Friday filed a police complaint against Gautam.

Man lynched in Bengaluru over child-lifting suspicion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A city-based social activist has submitted a petition to the state police chief that the Ramamurthy Nagar police were involved in the death of a 33-year-old mason from Jharkhand. The petitioner said the police picked up the man as he was being beaten up by the public over suspicions of his being a child-lifter. A few hours later, his body was found in the jurisdiction of the neighbouring KR Puram police station. The petition states that as the mason died after being picked up by the police, this amounted to custodial death. Senior officials, however, clarified that the allegations are baseless. Six people have been arrested for allegedly lynching the mason.

The victim, Sanjay Tudu from Jharkhand, was working in Ramamurthy Nagar. He was reportedly beaten up by the mob on September 23 on 1st Cross at Jyothi Puram in Dooravani Nagar under the Ramamurthy Nagar police limits. He was found dead on the footpath in ITI Colony in KR Puram police limits the next day and a case of unnatural death was registered. Further probe and postmortem findings made the police convert the case from unnatural death to murder on October 6.

V Paramesh, the social activist, submitted the petition on Thursday. He told TNIE that the victim was taken to the Ramamurthy Nagar police station in a Hoysala patrolling vehicle.

"Though the person was assaulted, he was still able to walk and sit in the Hoysala jeep. But a few hours later, his body was found in the neighbouring police station limits. This is nothing but murder. The police have tampered with evidence by misusing their power. Only after the petition was filed, there was some development in the case. The erring police officials need to be punished," he added.

Digital rupee coming soon, on pilot basis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is close to launching a 'sovereign' cryptocurrency to counter the growth of private digital currencies. It will soon begin a pilot launch of digital rupee (e₹) or Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC) for specific use cases.

The central bank will introduce the digital rupee in a phased manner. "Currently, we are at the forefront of a watershed movement in the evolution of currency that will decisively change the very nature of money and its functions," the RBI said in a statement on Friday.

CBDC is the legal tender issued by a central bank in a digital form, and its introduction is expected to offer a range of benefits, such as reduced dependency on cash, lesser overall currency management cost, and reduced settlement risk.

The Central bank issued a concept note on CBDC to create more awareness about the digital rupee.

In the note said the CBDCs will give the public the benefits of virtual currencies while ensuring consumer protection by avoiding the damaging social and economic consequences of private virtual currencies. RBI will issue two types of CBDCs — wholesale and retail.

While retail would be available to all, wholesale CBDC is for the settlement of interbank transfers and related wholesale transactions.

A significant feature of the CBDC is that its offline feature will be beneficial in remote areas because of availability and resilience benefits when power or mobile network is unavailable.

Our auto fares are fair, Rapido rubbishes transport dept charges

RTO order suspends services by companies for charging steep rates, terms it illegal

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

RIDE-HAILING companies who run autorickshaw services have rubbished allegations that they are overcharging customers, in response to the Karnataka Transport Department order suspending their services. The department issued an order to companies like Ola, Uber and Rapido, labelling their autorickshaw services illegal, and stating that they are charging exorbitant fares. It stated that the companies had violated the On-Demand Transportation Technology Aggregators Rules, 2016, which the department said only allowed companies to run cabs and not autorickshaws. The department ordered the companies to immediately cease operations of their autorickshaw services, and have given them three days' time to respond to the notice and also submit a compliance report.

However, a Rapido spokesperson rubbished the allegations, stating that none of its operations in Bengaluru are illegal. "The allegations being made regarding extra money charged by Rapido on auto taxi fares are completely false. All our fares are determined in accordance with the fares decided upon by the state government, and Rapido is not charging any extra money over those fares. Rapido will continue operating in Bengaluru under the ambit of the law," they said. The firm pointed out that the allegations were inhumane, as stoppage of the services would negatively affect both their customer base and workers. "Any false allegations levied on our auto taxi services in Bengaluru are not only irrational but also inhumane, as they jeopardize the convenient daily commute of thousands of citizens, and risk the livelihoods of our captains, who rely on us for their daily income," it stated.

Meanwhile, an Ola representative told TNIE the company did not want to respond to the allegations. Despite multiple attempts, Uber could not be reached for comment.

Contractors: Palike not clearing bills or floating fresh tenders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CASTING aspersions on Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), BBMP Civil Contractors' Association President KP Manjunath alleged that the Palike has not cleared bill dues worth Rs 3,000 crore since October 2020. He said that ever since the association went public about the 50 per cent commission system in the BBMP a few weeks ago, the Palike has also not given a fresh contract to its members.

Manjunath told TNIE, "Tenders are being given to outsiders and our dues worth Rs 3,000 crore from the Palike are not being cleared. I think these are happening after I went public (about 50 per cent commission). Maybe BBMP is avenging us for speaking about the commission system."

There is a system through which Class 3, 2 and 1 contractors of the association bagged tenders and executed civil works based on their capability, but now influential contractors from other states are being preferred, which is impacting livelihoods, he said. A meeting will be held after the festive season, and the association will decide on the next course of action, he added.

Karnataka Contractors' Association President Kempanna said he is not aware of these developments about contractors not being awarded tenders, but concurred that bills worth crores of rupees are not being cleared.

Reacting, Palike Special Commissioner RL Deepak said the allegations are based on assumptions. "BBMP was clearing dues once in 3-4 years earlier, and now the gap has shrunk to 18-24 months. If Palike had surplus funds and had not cleared the bills, there was a point. But tax collection and revenue generation are not surplus. Palike will not hold back, dues will be cleared."

We will ask people to compare our (Congress) regime with the present rule. When the BJP first came to power, the city started to stink as they failed to manage waste. There is rampant corruption in the administration

PayCM campaign to be part of Congress' BBMP poll strategy, says Priyank

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE Congress in Karnataka has decided to make use of the recent 'PayCM' campaign to target the BJP in the run up to the elections to the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) elections.

The Karnataka High Court had recently set December 31, 2022, as deadline to complete the election process to the civic body.

Head of Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee communication wing Priyank Kharge said pothole-filled roads, recent flooding of the IT corridor and 40% commission allegation by contractors show the maladministration of the BJP in the state. The PayCM campaign going viral itself shows how angry the citizens are, he claimed.

"A few contractors went a step ahead alleging a 50% commission system in BBMP. All these charges will be part of our campaign for the BBMP polls," Kharge added.

Former Bengaluru Development Minister R Ramalinga Reddy said, "We will ask people to compare our regime with the present rule. When the BJP first came to power, the city started to stink as they failed to manage waste. The issue of potholes was there during their first tenure and is also there now. There is rampant corruption in the administration. A special manifesto will be compiled by holding consultations with members of the public and experts."

He further said that the recent flooding and pollution of lakes will be highlighted before the voters.

Meanwhile, BJP Bengaluru South president NR Ramesh said the allegations made by the Congress will not stand any chance if it goes to courts as they don't have any evidence. "Their (Congress) own government was tainted. As many as 13 ministers faced FIRs during Siddaramaiah's term. Contractors were given Rs 900 crore by forming an empowered committee which clipped powers of the BBMP commissioner. The committee cleared inflated bills which were at least 38% above the project cost. We will also corner the Congress by making public the scams of their rule," he added.

'Democracy can only work in media's presence'

FORMER Lokayukta Justice N Santhosh Hegde inaugurated the seminar 'Freedom of Media: Structure, Scope and Limitations' organised by the Karnataka Journalists' Cooperative Society (KJCS) in association with Karnataka Institute for Law and Parliamentary Reforms, on Friday. He said it is the responsibility of media to convey and disperse the most important aspects of the news and uphold the integrity of the nation.

Dr N Sathish Gowda, Prof, University Law College, discussed the rights of media-persons and media's role in a democracy. He said a democratic nation only works when people are intelligent and demand participation and the media plays an important role in minimising human rights violations.

Calling the 'Right to Information' oxygen for democracy, Gowda said it was important to have the press as a medium to put out information and it would be difficult to manage a democracy without the media. KJCS president K Raghavendra Thogarsi and others were present.

RPO helps grieving couple get passport in 90 minutes

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Regional Passport Office (RPO) in Bengaluru has come in for much appreciation from a family for going out of its way to ensure a senior citizen couple got their passports in record time to rush to the US following their daughter-in-law's death.

Sixty-nine-year-old VR Sharma and Nirmala Sharma (64), residents of Mysuru, received the shocking news from their son on Friday morning about the passing away of their ailing young daughter-in-law in New York.

To book their tickets, Sharma took out their passports, which had a 10-year valid visa to the US.

He, however, was stunned to learn that it was on the verge of expiry "We were somehow under the impression that our passport was valid till November 2023 and we needed to renew it next year. I was shocked to note that it was expiring in November 2022 itself. It left us dumbfounded," he told TNIE.

A family member immediately contacted the RPO in Bengaluru via e-mail and they responded positively. "We started from Mysuru by car in the morning and told them about it. We reached the Regional Passport Office in Koramangala at 2.30 pm. Our old passport and a few documents were presented and our thumb impressions and photos were taken. By 4 pm we got our passports in hand," he said.

The couple, accompanied by the relative, met Regional Passport Officer K Krishna to thank him for the help.

"I would call this excellent service," he said. Nirmala added, "The Passport Office deserves all praise and blessings for prompt response."

The couple later rushed to Mysuru to book their flight tickets and pack for their trip.

We were somehow under the impression that our passport was valid till November 2023 and we needed to renew it next year. I was shocked to note that it was expiring in November 2022 itself. It left us dumbfounded — VR Sharma

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

08TH October : My key signs for today are Libra and Taurus. What do these have in common? Well, they're both linked to Venus, the planet which represents good relationships and pleasurable conditions. If I could sum up this time in a single idea, then I'd say that it's a moment to remember what we were put on this planet for - and that's to leave it a better place than when we arrived!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Others seem to be pinning their hopes on you, but whether they are wise to do so or not is another matter. At any rate, today's lunar alignments will give you extra scope to explain your needs and desires. First, though, you need to work out what you really and truly want.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's a good day for traditional pursuits, like shopping or dealing with other financial issues, or fixing up your home. The overwhelming emphasis of your planets is on work rather than play, so stay busy. Even in leisure activities you'll want to do your best.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon now brings a real change of heart in emotional connections which have grown stale over recent times. It will be pleasant indeed to feel more alive again, as the breath of love enters into your psychic arteries. Don't let everyday concerns block or obscure such wonderful feelings.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You will certainly require much help and assistance, if only because certain people now owe you a debt of gratitude. If anybody feels guilty about the way they have treated you, exploit it to the hilt! After all, they should have thought about their actions first!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
This is one of those rare times when partners must be allowed to go their own way. You will have to learn to trust people, even if your past experience shows that they are likely to make a hash of things. Maybe they have now learnt their lesson! But perhaps you can also offer them the right assistance.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your solar chart is certainly a rather special one at the moment. I have spoken about favourable chances and opportunities over the past few weeks. Now, today's Lunar picture will set you a sort of celestial exam to see how far you are prepared to go.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You won't be able to make decisive moves financially, or in terms of material security, until after Mercury resolves its current set of change eable aspects. You might imagine that you've all the time in the world, but deep inside you know the clock is ticking away.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You can go into battle over almost any personal matter if you wish, and the chances are that you will win. But winning the war is a different matter, and you should think very carefully before tangling with anyone who you may need to rely on in future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The time is fast approaching when no one will be able to impose any restrictions on you, but that's not how it feels just now. Indeed, the typical Sagittarian should be feeling particularly hemmed in by half-understood emotional feelings. Perhaps you need to go back to first principles before you start anything new.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You should take advice from friends and close associates, even on drawn-out domestic dramas. You must also realise that other people do take their beliefs and principles very seriously, so don't expect them to compromise. If they want to be different, then so be it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
If you can accept other people as they are then you will probably get on a great deal more easily than in the past. This is very much a period in which people must all listen to each other with courtesy, otherwise tempers are bound to fray - and arguments will erupt.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Whatever else has been happening, it is very useful to spend time at home, or otherwise making more of an effort to get on with family members. Your travel stars are still extremely strong, so you should consider a good break and a nice, long rest.

A MOTHER and son, who were wanted for the murder of a 69-year-old woman, were arrested almost five years later in Kolhapur, Maharashtra. The pair was traced after the son opened a bank account using his Aadhaar card.

The accused were identified as Shashikala, alias Radha, 50, and her son Sanjay, 27. The victim, Shantha Kumari, was Shashikala's mother. Kumari was murdered in her house in Kengeri Satellite Town for refusing to eat gobi manchurian on August 17, 2016. Sanjay, who was an aeronautical student, had killed his grandmother, and his mother decided to cover it up and save her son. The accused had buried the body inside the cupboard, using charcoal and salt. They had even plastered it with cement. They then fled the city. The incident came to light nine months later in May 2017, after the house owner came to check on the tenants and saw the missing cupboard.

After nearly five years, police managed to arrest the mother and son. After the aged woman's death, there were rumours that she was killed for refusing to register her property in the names of her daughter and grandson. Sanjay's friend Nandish had been arrested in 2017, based on the mobile call details of the former. The accused, before fleeing, had left the mobile in the rented house. Nandish had helped the accused by providing logistics.

"The mother and son were working in a hotel in Kolhapur. Sanjay was working as a supplier while his mother was working as the cleaner in the hotel," said an officer who is part of the team which arrested the duo in Maharashtra.

After the murder, the team of policemen had gone to Sagara in Shivamogga, the hometown of the victim, to get details of the accused. The police had no clues of the accused. The Kengeri police who registered the murder case while recently reviewing unsolved cases, started checking on the mother and son. They found out that Sanjay had opened a bank account using his Aadhaar card. A team of policemen collected Sanjay's address from the bank's Kolhapur branch and arrested them on last Saturday.

The victim's brothers allegedly ransacked the nursing home after coming to know what happened inside from the vicitm. After reaching home, she is said to have had a fever. She refused to go to the same doctor and revealed what happened. The police are searching for the doctor, and a case has been filed.

Robotic surgery puts patient back on feet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AASRA hospital claimed that it conducted the world's first robotic total hip replacement surgery for a polio patient with a history of an unsuccessful girdle stone arthroplasty. A team of doctors conducted the surgery enabling the polio patient to walk after two years of being confined to a wheelchair.

The 48-year-old patient suffered from a fracture a few years ago and underwent a girdle stone arthroplasty at an orthopaedic hospital but was unable to move or walk after the surgery.

A robotic total hip replacement surgery was done and a specially modified implant was placed in the hip joint. The surgery was conducted using MAKO Smart Robotics platform – one of the most advanced robotic surgery equipment available. With this precision surgery, a patient will be able to walk within a day post the procedure and return to normal life within 4-6 weeks.

Dr Jagadish Hiremath, Chairman, AASRA Hospitals, said, "There has been no documented evidence in any medical literature across the world of a total robotic hip replacement surgery conducted in such a complicated case. With conventional surgery, surgeons work based on the gut feeling and skills. With robotic surgery, everything can be planned in detail and hence perfect alignment of the implant can be achieved."

KPCC chief DK Shivakumar, who appeared before ED officials in New Delhi on Friday, said, "Political battles must be fought on the political battlefield. The misuse of agencies by BJP to harass and intimidate political opponents will get a befitting reply from the people of Karnataka in May 2023". "BJP must understand ED can't address unemployment and price rise," he stated.

'BJP WEAKENING CONSTITUTION'

'TALK LESS, LISTEN MORE' IS RAHUL'S YATRA MANTRA

Wants feedback from all sections; Says he was behind Siddu govt loan waiver

K SHIVAKUMAR
@ Nagamangala (Mandya):

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi clicks pictures of a girl with her father during the Bharat Jodo Yatra in Mandya district on Friday | UDAYA SHANKAR S

THROWING away all netagiri, former AICC president Rahul Gandhi has hit the road with one concept: Talk less, listen more. During the course of the Bharat Jodo Yatra, Rahul is mixing with people, giving a patient hearing to those who want to talk about problems, and humbly requesting them to suggest solutions too.

During an interaction with this correspondent over a 3-km long walk, he reversed the question-answer session, seeking details on a variety of issues and challenges facing different segments of society, especially farmers. The Congress icon has been interacting with people to know their grievances, besides the region's core social and political problems.

As the yatra passed through the sugar bowl of Mandya, Rahul Gandhi got some in-depth knowledge on the agrarian realities. When he sought to know why farmers had not taken up agriculture activities, they told him they were helpless as many who had grown horticulture crops like tomato, brinjal, beans and others crops, had suffered from a crash in prices. With their pockets empty, and little support from banks, they couldn't invest in their farms again.

When told that farmers were happy with the loan waiver implemented by the Siddaramaiah government, a jovial Rahul said he was the force behind the waiver and other welfare programmes, but the people were not aware of it. He was curious to know about the family and agricultural background of this correspondent, besides agro economics.

Rahul said the BJP is making all attempts to weaken the Constitution and change it, and that he wanted to wake up the people and sensitise them to the dangers of this exercise. "People should now decide and play a role on how the Constitution needs to be protected," he said.

He threw back questions on the success of the BJP and its religious politics, and Dalits looking to the saffron party for positions. He questioned why a section of educated Dalits was turning to the saffron party, when the BJP is trying to take away their rights.

Expressing huge respect for former President K Narayanan, he said, "I have met him, he is incomparable, and always ensured that he followed the Constitution." Rahul, who was curious about social ills and evils prevailing in modern times, felt a social boycott has great impact on children, and that belief in the Constitution and mutual respect can bring about positive change.

Having been on the yatra for weeks now, Rahul said right from Kanyakumari, through Kerala and Karnataka, he has perceived a "large river of people flowing", and there is only faith, no hatred or anger in this river. Quoting Basavanna, he said that the social reformer had taught people not to hate anybody, treat others as you would treat yourself and also listen to them. "These are the lessons I have imbibed in this yatra, while the present-day ideology of the government has divided the country," he said. "The DNA and essence of this country is that we should not hate anybody, and treat others equally."

Experts tell Rahul about '3Cs' in NEP

SEVERAL educationalists, experts and teachers expressed their concerns about the National Education Policy -2021 (NEP-2021) during a closed-door interaction held with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday.

The experts included a professor from the National School of Law, government school teachers, and those who advice on policy matters.

The participants flagged the 3Cs -- communalisation, centralisation and commercialisation -- which form the pillars of the NEP, said Rajeev Gowda, Congress national spokesperson and chairman of the AICC research wing, adding that they said that through NEP, the saffron party is trying to poison the minds of the kids.

Rahul walks with supporter, a specially-abled person, on Friday

"A government school teacher, who took part in the interaction, explained the sad state of affairs at government schools, lack of infrastructure, fund crunch and vacancies which are not being addressed, forcing people to depend on private school," he said. Earlier, Rahul met and spoke to women, and those from the working class to know how they struggle to educate their children.

Will scrap NEP: Jairam Ramesh

Asserting that the Congress will scrap the National Education Policy if they come to power, Congress leader and former Minister Jairam Ramesh said that not a word of it will be retained. He told media persons on Friday that during the Congress dispensation, Navodaya school was introduced, which revolutionised the education system but NEP will bring the 'Nagpur Education Policy' into effect.

Rajeev Gowda and MLA Priyank Kharge revealed that in the true spirit of encouraging scientific temper among the students, they are planning to prepare a manifesto focusing on the health and education of the people in consultation with experts in the sector.

4 held for performing puja at heritage site in Bidar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bidar

Bidar police arrested four persons for allegedly barging into a madrasa in Old Bidar city, and performing prayers in the early hours on Thursday. Video footage, which has gone viral on social media, shows that a large number of people left the procession of Bhavani Devi, and entered the premises of the 15th century ASI-protected Mahmood Gawan monument, where a Madrasa and mosque are located.

People take out the Bhavani Devi procession every year in Old Bidar city, but so far, nobody has entered the madrasa to perform puja, sources said.

Bidar SP Dekka Kishor Babu told TNIE that there has been a ritual of offering prayers inside the ASI monument in Bidar. "Every year, a small group enters the same premises and perform puja, but this time, a large one entered. The lock of the gate was not broken by the people. Four people have been arrested, and a case has been registered against many people. The people used to offer prayers to a tree near the monument during Nag Panchami every year, and puja is performed annually before a pillar on Dasara, after the tree was axed due to during road-widening work," the SP said.

In his complaint to Bidar Town police station, Mohammad Shafi-yogiddin Mohammad Bismilla (69) said, "The group entered the ASI monument Mahmood Gawan Madrasa and Masjid illegally by breaking the lock, and threatening security personnel. The people in the group have been shouting slogans against the country and trying to instigate people." A police jeep and police personnel were allegedly present at the spot during the incident. When asked why no action was taken, the SP said he would take note of it.

Meanwhile, people staged a dharna in front of the police station, demanding stringent action against the accused.

'First time, communal unrest in Gawan Madrasa'

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Bidar

THIS is the first time that police had to face communal tension near Mohammad Gawan Madrasa in over three decades, said an IPS officer, who had served as an SP in Bidar district a few years ago.

Speaking to TNIE, the IPS officer, who wished to remain anonymous, said that it is not clear to the police whether activists of Olakote village inside the Bidar Fort used to offer puja to the Watasavitri Devi inside the premises of Mohammad Gawan Madarsa since Bidar is known for its communal harmony.

> The ASI has said that usually eight to nine people used to come inside, offer puja, and go back, but this time, more than 40 people entered the premises
>
> Alok Kumar, Additional DGP (Law and Order)

Additional DGP (Law and Order) Alok Kumar has asked Bidar SP Decca Kishor Babu to find out if there has been any dereliction of duty on the part of the police. He has admitted that there was a police van with the activists for the Dussehra procession, and the police station was near the site of the incident.

Kumar has also asked the Bidar SP to ascertain if the activists of Olakote used to offer puja inside the Madrasa annually, and what was the size of the group that goes inside.

The department is also planning to lay down conditions similar to Ganesha Chaturthi under which leaders of organisations will be held accountable for any untoward incident during celebrations.

The ASI has said that usually eight to nine people used to come inside, offer puja, and go back, but this time, more than 40 people entered the premises, Kumar said.

No case has been filed so far for trespassing an ASI property, he said.

But a case under section 295 has been filed based on a complaint.

According to the executive committee member of Vishwa Hindu Parishat S Ramakrishna, the people of Olakote used to worship Bhavani deity in the temple in their locality for centuries.

On Vijaya Dashami, a procession is taken out from Bhavani temple to Hanuman Temple in Shahagunj, Gumbaj Darawaza, Bhimanagar, Usmana Gunj, Purana Gawan Madarsa, and there has been no issues, and the ASI has allowed the worship of the tree. Kalaburagi Divisional in-charge of BJP Eshwar Singh Thakur said that for trespassing, the ASI should file a complaint, but how can a person file a complaint.

The madrasa functions like a residential university.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi with deceased journalist Gauri Lankesh's mother Indira and sister Kavitha during the Bharat Jodo Yatra in Mandya district on Friday

THE absence of Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Day-8 of the Bharat Jodo Yatra in Karnataka, led by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, has failed to dent the response of people, who extended their support for the walk covering over 20km from Nagamangala to Bellur Cross to stay at a ground near Adichunchanagiri Mutt.

Siddaramaiah took a break from the walk to attend an all-party meeting while Shivakumar was in New Delhi to appear before the Enforcement Directorate. This did not dampen the spirit of the Congress workers, and there was an overwhelming response from the crowd.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi spoke to several people from different walks of life. It looked as if he was following his words before the yatra that 'compassion can unite' as he spent time talking to people candidly. He was also seen taking pictures of a young girl with her father, holdings hands with a kid dressed as Bharat mata, helped a woman wear a mask properly, and walked with a para-athlete.

Meanwhile, it was an extended Dasara for folk artistes as they were in huge demand although Dasara is over as organisers of the yatra are engaging them daily.

Gauri Lankesh's kin joins yatra

Rahul Gandhi, who is calling the yatra a fight against tyrannical and divisive forces, met the family members of late Gauri Lankesh. They joined him in the yatra on Friday from Nagamangala to Bellur in Mandya district.

"Gauri stood for truth, courage, and freedom. I stand for Gauri Lankesh and countless others like her, who represent the true spirit of India," he tweeted, adding that the yatra is their voice which can never be silenced.

BJP executive committee discusses ways to tackle opposition attack

THE BJP state executive committee, which met here on Friday to discuss preparations for the 2023 Assembly polls, brainstormed on tackling attacks by opposition parties, especially the Congress, on the BJP government. It passed a resolution condemning Congress, saying the Siddaramaiah-led government between 2013 and 18 was involved in rampant corruption by setting up the ACB to weaken the Lokayukta.

"The Karnataka High Court's verdict scrapping the ACB is a slap on Siddaramaiah's face," it stated. Another resolution was passed congratulating the Narendra Modi-led BJP government for banning PFI. BJP leaders, who will embark on yatras as part of election campaigning, should create an awareness on the good work done by the double-engine state-central governments and defend the Bommai government, it stated.

BJP General Secretary incharge of Karnataka Arun Singh was not happy at the manner the state party leadership handled the 'Paycm' campaign against the CM, sources said. "He gave clear instructions to workers to defend the government. He suggested that the good work done by the government should be reached to the people," they added.

Bommai said BJP is committed to increasing the reservation to give social justice to all oppressed communities. "The people of the state have not forgotten the scams of the Siddaramaiah government. As many as 36,000 borewells were being dug on a single day. There were also scandals in the recruitment of police constables and procuring of beds and pillows," he said. Former CM BS Yediyurappa expressed confidence that BJP will win 140-150 seats to form its own government in 2023. "We should prepare the ground by reaching out the schemes of Modi and the state government," he suggested. Most of the leaders, including Yediyurappa and BJP national general secretary CT Ravi, said Bharat Jodo Yatra will not have any impact.

'Sonia running for cover'

BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel, indirectly referring to Congress president Sonia Gandhi, alleged that she has been finding ways to run away from India to Italy. "Italy's akka (sister in Kannada) is searching for a way out. Wait and see where opposition leader Siddaramaiah ends up in the Arkavathy Layout 'redo' scam," he warned.

Didn't withdraw cases against PFI: Ex-minister

Bengaluru: State Congress working president and former minister Ramalinga Reddy hit out at the BJP leaders who accused the Siddaramaiah government of withdrawing cases against the activists of the PFI. Reddy said during the Congress rule and the Congress-JDS coalition government's tenure as many as 294 cases were withdrawn, but none of them was against the PFI "Our government had not withdrawn any cases related to the PFI. CM Basavaraj Bommai and other BJP leaders are making baseless allegations against the Congress," he said. "Our party never encouraged communal elements," he said.

Sriramulu involved in land scam: Cong leader

Bengaluru: Former Ballari Lok Sabha member and senior Congress leader VS Ugrappa, urged the BJP high command to sack Transport Minister B Sriramulu as he is allegedly involved in a land scam, and is set to face trial in the Peoples' Representatives court. He claimed that the Ballari Lokayukta police have filed a 6,000-page chargesheet against Sriramulu for allegedly grabbing 27.25 acres of land including 10 acres acquired for a canal. On February 2, 2011, it was converted into a non-agricultural land by misusing the official machinery, he said.

Former minister Jabbar Khan Honnalli passes away

Hubballi: Former minister Jabbar Khan Honnalli passed away in Hubballi on Friday after a prolonged illness. The 81-year-old is survived by his wife, a son and six daughters. Honnalli was one of the prominent Muslim leaders in Congress and his strong influence on the Muslim community made him a popular leader as he effectively handled the activities of Anjuman-e-Islam for years. He was quite popular among all sections of society because of his simple lifestyle and empathy for the poor and downtrodden people.

Karnataka is borderline case on reservation, says law minister

ON the delay in implementing the committee report, Law Minister JC Madhu Swamy said Karnataka is a borderline case on reservation. "If we cross the 50 per cent limit, it will go against the Supreme Court order. It is difficult to increase the SC/ST reservation under present circumstances, unless we reduce the 6 per cent from the OBC quota. But that is not acceptable. If we want to go beyond the limit, Schedule 9 of the Constitution needs to be amended. Since it comes within the legal ambit, it cannot be done immediately. It is not in our hands alone," he explained. But he hinted that if the 50 per cent limit is increased it could impact the general category.

Bommai said the issue had been discussed with BJP senior leaders. Also, the BJP core committee on Friday passed a resolution to increase the reservation for SC/STs. "There is a feeling that within SC/STs, justice has not been done to many. In the coming days, decisions on internal reservation among SC/STs will be taken after consultations with experts and leaders of all parties, and also to ensure that no injustice is done to society, " he added.

Referring to Tamil Nadu, he said in a 2007 judgement on Schedule 9, the SC stated that in case of any infringement of fundamental rights, legal immunity may be given. When the Land Reforms Act came into West Bengal in 1950, the apex court abolished it. Later, it was brought into force in the form of Schedule 9 by considering it as a fundamental right. "This is applicable not only for reservation, but also other issues. Since 1994, this concession has been given. Till now, no verdict has come out in this regard," he added.

Pressure Centre to up quota, Siddu tells govt

Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah on Friday demanded that the State government pressure the Union government to increase reservation for SC and ST communities under Schedule 9 of the Constitution, through a constitutional amendment. Siddaramaiah, who attended an all-party meeting, told reporters there has already been a delay in increasing reservation. "Since there is a BJP government in the State and Centre, they have to put pressure and implement it," he said. Law Minister JC Madhuswamy said, "The Supreme Court has ordered that reservation should not cross 50 per cent, but has given concession to Tamil Nadu. In such cases, the Centre might have to make amendments to the existing laws." The state government is expected to table the Justice Nagmohan Das report in the winter session in December. ENS

CHANDRAYAAN-2 MAPS ABUNDANCE OF SODIUM ON LUNAR SURFACE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A payload aboard India's Chandrayaan-2 orbiter, which is orbiting the Moon since August 2019, has for the first time mapped the abundance of sodium on the Moon.

This finding improves upon the already known data based on successive laboratory investigations of returned samples of Apollo, Luna and Chang'e missions, besides from India's own first lunar mission Chandrayaan-1's X-ray Fluorescence Spectrometer (C1XS) which detected sodium from its characteristic line in X-rays that opened up the possibility of mapping sodium on the Moon.

Although these data widened the range of sodium composition on the Moon, the fundamental conclusions had persisted till now. In a recent work published in The Astrophysical Journal Letters, Chandrayaan-2 mapped the abundance of sodium on the Moon for the very first time using the Chandrayaan-2 Large Area Soft X-ray Spectrometer (CLASS) on board the orbiter. Built at the UR Rao Satellite Centre of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) in Bengaluru, CLASS provides clean signatures of the sodium line thanks to its high sensitivity and performance.

The new findings from India's second unmanned lunar mission, Chandrayaan-2, provide an avenue to study surface-exosphere interaction on the Moon, which would aid the development of similar models for Mercury and other airless bodies in our Solar System and beyond. The study found that a part of the signal could be arising from a thin veneer of sodium atoms weakly bound to the lunar grains.

Since 1988, ground telescopes have taken images of this faint sodium glow around the Moon, which is just the colour of light emitted by a sodium vapour lamp. What has been elusive so far is the source of these atoms on the Moon's surface.

According to ISRO, the radiance that fills the vast expanse of the night sky is the reflection of sunlight from the Moon's surface, a major part of which is from the bright lunar highlands. The rock and soil samples that the Apollo 11 astronauts brought back to Earth showed that the regions on the lunar surface, which are remnants of the ancient lunar crust, are mainly composed of silicate minerals, including sodium.

BRS will go to people with a positive agenda: KTR

Says the party wants to win over divisive forces in the country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

REMINDING that Prime Minister Narendra Modi promised houses for all by 2022, TRS working president KT Rama Rao on Friday said that the PM was now constructing his residence by spending an estimated ₹435 crore of public money.

Rama Rao insisted that the 2024 General Elections were the target for the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) and the newly-launched national party would go to the people with a positive agenda.

"We do not have any negative agenda. Our aim is not to defeat the BJP. We have a positive agenda which is to win over the divisive forces in the country," he said.

In an informal chat with reporters here on Friday, Rama Rao compared BRS with a movie. "A Telugu movie with content will become a pan-India hit. Big budget movies without content will not be accepted by the people. Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao has commitment, content and vision. If such a leader launches a national party, it will get acceptance from the people across the country," Rama Rao said.

'Not a fight for power'

He said that the TRS supremo's fight was not for power. "He would try to bring the attention of the people of the country on genuine issues," Rama Rao averred and compared Rao with Jayaprakash Narayan and VP Singh, who had won the hearts of the people in the past. He said that the TRS name was changed as the word Telangana would not be acceptable for a national party.

Rama Rao termed the BJP as 'Bahu rupa party' (multifaceted party) with ED, CBI and other agencies. "We are ready to face those hunting dogs (Central agencies)," he asserted.

Asked whether BRS could not be treated as a Telangana party in other states, he replied that BJP was known as a Gujarat party.

"The BJP was creating confusion among the people by raking up non-issues like what to eat and what to wear and trying to win elections. However, the BRS will explain the schemes being implemented in Telangana and see that the vibrant Telangana model is implemented across the country," Rama Rao said, terming the Gujarat model a "golmaal model".

NAIDU SETS TDP's POLL MACHINERY ROLLING

S VISWANATH @ VIJAYAWADA

CONTRARY to his practice of maintaining suspense over the list of candidates for the polls till the last minute, TDP supremo and Andhra Pradesh Leader of Opposition N Chandrababu Naidu began finalising the candidates for the Assembly constituencies. Though elections are one-and-a-half-years away, Naidu expedited reviewing the political situation with leaders in-charge of constituencies and also confirmed party tickets to most of them.

According to sources, as on Thursday, Naidu completed reviews with 83 leaders. It was learnt that he had assured seats to around 70 of them to contest the 2024 elections. Stating that Naidu had already assured tickets to all sitting MLAs, a senior TDP leader told TNIE that the party chief giving a clarity on tickets was to prepare the leaders for the election. Except in case of political alliances, leaders getting assurance from the party chief would contest the upcoming elections, he added. Naidu held meetings with leaders, shared survey reports, and gave suggestions for improving their performance.

Tourist bus driver booked, blames Kerala RTC bus driver for accident

PALAKKAD: The Vadakkenchery police have slapped a case of culpable homicide not amounting to murder (Section 304 of IPC) on the driver of the tourist bus, Joemon Pathrose, in connection with the death of nine persons in Wednesday night's accident at Vadakkenchery and recorded his arrest. Meanwhile, the blood samples of Joemon were taken at the Taluk Hospital in Alathur and sent to the lab in Kochi for testing to see whether he was inebriated while driving the vehicle that carried students and teachers of Baselios Vidyanikethan School in Mulanthuruthy. The owner of the bus, Arun Kumar, has also been charged with a case under Section 212 (harbouring an offender) of IPC. The allegation by Joemon that the Kerala State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) bus driver had suddenly applied brakes and it had led to the crash from behind would also be investigated, the police said. Two buffaloes killed in tiger attack in South Kodagu

Madikeri: Two buffaloes were killed in a tiger attack at Harihara village in South Kodagu. The incident took place during morning hours of Friday. The buffaloes were owned by one Thithira Sada. A protest was organised by farmers of the village. During morning hours on Friday, two buffaloes were attacked by a prowling tiger at the village. The two buffaloes suffered fatal injuries near the neck area following the attack. The forest department was alerted and a combing operation was conducted. Meanwhile, the farmers of the village who learnt about the tiger attack gathered in large numbers and protested against the department for their alleged inefficiency in controlling the increasing tiger menace. The farmers alleged that the department was not releasing the compensation to the affected farmers on time. CCF Murthy visited the spot and explained to the protesters that the release of aid was delayed due to technical issues and the same has now been solved. ENS

'Six arrested on lynching charges'

REACTING to the allegations against the police, Dr A Subramanyeswara Rao, Additional Commissioner of Police, Law and Order (East), told The New Indian Express that the place of assault and the place where the body was found is within 1.5 km radius. "After the person was taken to the Ramamurthy Nagar police station, the station house officer (SHO) spoke to him for five to 10 minutes. But the person kept walking in and out of the police station. He then voluntarily walked out of the station which is clearly seen in the CCTV footage. Six people have been arrested for lynching and the investigation is continuing."

Bheemashankar S Guled, DCP (East), under whose jurisdiction the Ramamurthy Nagar police station falls, said the allegations are false. "We have already established by internal inquiry that the police did not touch him. It was clear case of mob lynching suspecting child theft," he added.

S Girish, Deputy Commissioner of Police, Whitefield division, in whose jurisdiction the KR Puram police station comes, told TNIE that the body was found on a footpath in ITI Colony.

"No external injuries were found on the body. Initially, a case of unnatural death was registered. Then the investigation found that he was assaulted the previous day by some members of the public. We got in touch with the labour contractor under whom Tudu worked. The police contacted his wife in Jharkhand and informed her about the death. The postmortem report revealed that the injuries were sustained because of the assault, and then, it was converted into a murder case. After going through the CCTV footage, we have arrested six people," he added.

ED attaches assets worth ₹1.54 cr of Amnesty Int'l Trust

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement has provisionally attached assets worth Rs 1.54 crore in bank accounts of Indians for Amnesty International Trust (IAIT) under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002.

"With the present attachment, total attachment in the case stands at Rs 21.08 crore," the agency stated on Friday.

The Central enforcement agency said that they had initiated money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR registered by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), Economic Offences Unit (EOU) -IV, New Delhi, against Amnesty International India Pvt Ltd (AIIPL) and others under Section 120(B) for criminal conspiracy of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and Sections 11, 35 & 39 of the Foreign Contributions Regulatory Act (FCRA).

"In this case, Amnesty International India Foundation Trust (AIIFT) was granted permission under the FCRA during 2011-12 for receiving foreign contributions from Amnesty International UK. However, the same was cancelled and permission/registration has been denied. AIIPL and IAIT were formed in 2013-14 and 2012-13 respectively to escape the FCRA route and carried out NGO activities in the guise of service export and FDI," the ED further stated.

Investigation by the agency has revealed that upon cancellation of FCRA licence of AIIFT, a new method was adopted by Amnesty entities to receive money from abroad, that, Amnesty International, UK sent Rs 51.72 crore to AIIPL in the guise of export of services and Foreign Direct Investment (FDI).

However, there was no documentary proof for the alleged export such as invoices and copies of the agreement submitted during the investigation, the ED added.

"It is prima facie found that Amnesty International (UK) invested in AIIPL in the form of Compulsory Convertible Debentures. Subsequently, another Indian entity, IAIT established an overdraft facility for Rs 14.25 crore keeping the Rs 10 crore FD of AIIPL as collateral. The overdraft facility was used by IAIT for Amnesty India's NGO activities including salary and administrative and operational expenses. Therefore, the FDI received by AIIPL are being used by the Indians for Amnesty International Trust, Bengaluru to carry out its NGO activities. It is seen that there is a layering of remittances received by AIIPL, a company into IAIT, a charitable trust," the ED concluded.

ED files prosecution plaint against Ajmera Group before B'luru court

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has filed a Prosecution Complaint (PC) before the Principal City Civil and Sessions Judge and Special Court in Bengaluru against Ajmera Group, represented by its partners Tabrej Pasha and Abdul Dastagir; MF Enterprises represented by its partners Syed Muthahir and Fairoz Khan, Pasha, Dastagir, Mudasir, Khan and Muthahir. The court has taken cognisance of the PC, the ED stated in a release on Friday.

The ED stated that the accused had derived proceeds of crime and have directly indulged in the process or activity connected with proceeds of crime including its possession, acquisition and projecting or claiming it as untainted property and are guilty of the offence of money laundering.

The agency had initiated money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR dated April 26, 2018 filed at the Jayanagar police station under various IPC sections and sections 5, 38, 39 & 41 of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act. Subsequently, based upon the FIR, chargesheet (Part I) dated January 19, 2019 and chargesheet (Part II) dated March 5, 2019 were filed by the Central Crime Branch, Special Enquiry, Bengaluru before the City Civil and Sessions Judge Court, Bengaluru under Sections 120(B), 409, 420 r/w 34 of IPC.

The ED investigation revealed that Pasha and Dastagir opened the partnership firm Ajmera Groups and accepted deposits from the public without obtaining any license/permission from the SEBI and RBI and without registering the business entity as NBFC.

"With a fraudulent intention to cheat the common public, Ajmera Groups illegally collected funds/deposits from numerous investors to the tune of Rs 2,56,06,90,338 with a promise of an exorbitant rate of interest on the investments and returned an amount of Rs 1,83,97,04,264. However, it failed to return the amount of Rs 72,09,86,074 to the investors and thus cheated the common public," the ED has charged.

Stalker sets fire to woman and himself

ENS @ Hyderabad

ANGRY at a woman for deciding to return to her husband, an angry stalker set fire to a woman as well as himself at Samshabad on Friday. Both received around 20 per cent burns and are undergoing treatment. According to the complaint filed by Mahesh Goud, the husband of the victim, the accused was identified as 27-year-old Md Altaf. In his complaint, Mahesh said that following a domestic dispute, his wife Sandhya started living in her maternal home along with their two children. During this time, she grew close to Altaf, their neighbour at Gandhiguda.

In the meantime, Mahesh managed to convince her to return to him. However, this was not to Altaf's liking, who insisted that Sandhya leave Mahesh for him. When Altaf did not relent, Sandhya told Mahesh about the affair, who told her to snap all contact with Altaf. Angered by this, Altaf barged inside her home on Friday and before anyone could realise what was happening, splashed petrol over Sandhya and himself and lit a fire. Neighbours heard the screams and douse the flames.

This year's Krishi Mela to focus on agri startups

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE University of Agricultural Sciences (UAS) announced that nine new varieties of crops and 38 agricultural technologies will be introduced at the Krishi Mela this year. The mela will be held from November 3 to 6.

New varieties of crops will include two types of short-duration paddy that can be harvested around four months after sowing, a high-yield maize hybrid and browntop millet that are resistant to leaf blight, short-duration field bean, sesamum and niger, high-yield castor hybrid and high-yield fodder sorghum. This year's mela will focus on agricultural startups, whose numbers have risen over the last year because of the state's focus on the startup economy.

During the mela, farmers from across the state will be felicitated for their achievements and contributions. The mela will feature 800 stalls from various exhibitors, including ICAR, and horticulture, sericulture, forestry, animal husbandry, fisheries and women and child development departments.

5 Lankan Tamils rescued after 2 days without food

Saparin says Lankan Navy opened fire at sandbar where they were stranded for two days | EXPRESS

M THANRAJ @ Rameswaram

FIVE Sri Lankan Tamils, including a six-month-old baby, who were stranded on a sandbar near Dhanushkodi in Ramanathapuram district for nearly two days without food and water, were rescued by the marine police with the help of fishermen on Friday. The marine police said the family from Thalavadi region in Sri Lanka were ferried on a boat from Mannar and were dropped on the fifth sandbar off Dhanushkodi.

S Saparin (33), who undertook the perilous journey along with wife Rathika (36) and children Sagith (7), Salma (4) and Sagin (six months old), said he had to flee the island nation due to punishing economic distress.

Speaking to reporters, Saparin said, "Finding job to earn money to meet our every day expenses has become difficult in Sri Lanka. We could not even buy a packet of biscuit. We started our journey from Mannar and were dropped at the sandbar two days ago. We waited there without food or water. As we were waiting, Sri Lankan Navy personnel suddenly opened fire at the sandbar. We laid flat on the sandbar for hours to avoid getting hit by bullets. Another person who came with us jumped into the sea and attempted to escape. We don't know what happened to him."

BIG IDEAS, CALL FOR ACTION MISSING FROM BHARAT JODO YATRA

The Congress party's Bharat Jodo Yatra is successful in optics and mobilisation. Dramatic drone shots of milling crowds chopped into easily uploadable clips, with adrenaline-pumping background scores, are being widely shared. The yatra, for once, brought the Congress back to newspapers and television screens in a positive light. Even opponents find it difficult to dismiss the fact that Rahul Gandhi drew unexpectedly huge crowds in the initial days of his 3,750 km-long walkathon, spanning 150 days. The yatra, however, did not throw up any big ideas so far. Neither did a call for action emerge from it.

In his speeches, Rahul Gandhi attacked the Union and state governments for their failures. But he did not present a well-crafted alternative vision or programmes that could fire people's imagination. It may be argued that the name of the yatra defines its purpose, and it is a march to unite the people in the face of attempts to divide them. That is a good reason to undertake the yatra. But will it be good enough for people to see the Congress as an alternative to the ruling BJP? Probably not. When Jayaprakash Narayan launched his movement against Indira Gandhi's regime and called for 'Sampoorna Kranti' or total revolution, it aimed at achieving Gandhi's 'Sarvodaya' or universal uplift through direct action. The issues that triggered the JP movement were the same faced by people today—joblessness, price rise, and failing institutions, besides the curbs on personal liberties. Rahul's yatra lacks a JP-type clarion call. The call for Bharat Jodo is a noble one. But what is the glue that will unite the people?

It remains to be seen if the Congress and Rahul Gandhi can provide that glue by way of some big ideas with universal appeal. There is a good chance of the yatra ending by gaining only some good press for Rahul Gandhi and no electoral dividends for his party. The route of the yatra is so planned that the party's campaign in Karnataka is peaking at the wrong time. Elections in Karnataka are due in March next year. The Congress padayatris will be out of the state by the end of this month, five months before the elections. The yatra is high on optics and mobilisation, but it needs more thought in it to achieve its real objectives.

KERALA SHOULD NOT GO THE 'PUNJAB WAY'

It was a strange coincidence that the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) arrested the managing director of a Kerala-based fruit import company in connection with the seizure of synthetic drugs worth ₹1,476 crore in Mumbai two days before the state government launched a one-month-long "No-to-Drugs" campaign. The state has been facing a worrying upswing in narcotics cases of late. Hardly a day passes without news of drug seizures. If the number of drug-related cases in 2020 was 4,650, the figure stood at 5,334 in 2021. This year, it is 16,986, more than a three-fold rise over the past couple of years. And 18,743 people have been arrested. Kerala was ranked fourth, behind Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, and Arunachal Pradesh, in terms of the Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act crime rate (16 per lakh population in 2021). The national average is 5.7. Also, Kochi was among the top five cities in terms of drug use. The most alarming part, however, is the increasing number of youngsters—both genders—falling into the narcotic cesspool. As many as 213 students between 18 and 25 were booked in NDPS cases last year. This year, within the first five months, 456 students were arrested. Though there could be some truth in the police claim that the increased enforcement activities are behind the massive uptick in NDPS cases, it is an open secret that the state's colleges and schools are increasingly getting trapped in the narcotic web.

In this context, the Kerala government decided to do something about the drug trafficking happening right under its nose. The chief minister conceded in the state assembly that the use of substances like synthetic drugs is "a major threat", and abuse is prevalent among men and women. As part of the campaign, the government has prepared a data bank of those involved in drug cases. Special committees have also been formed at the state, district, panchayat, ward and school levels as part of the awareness drive. Inaugurating the drive, the CM said that the state has to win the battle against drugs at any cost. "We have to win this battle anyway. Many would consider it impossible. But, we will make it happen," he said.

Though a much delayed one, the government's anti-drug campaign should be supported by all, cutting across political boundaries. The government, on its part, should mean what it proclaims and must act diligently to end the menace. Otherwise, it will not be long before one finds Kerala going the Punjab way. And that should be avoided at all costs.

QUICK TAKE

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO STOOLS

It's AAP in Delhi and AAP in Punjab. The Aam Aadmi Party can blame itself this year for stubble burning in Punjab worsening air pollution around the national capital. It has the unenviable task of placating Delhites breathing lousy air and restraining Punjab farmers from burning stubble. The party can find a coordinated solution if it overcomes specific challenges. Changing farmers' attitudes is one. Next, the results of bio-products to decompose crop residue are not encouraging as overall decomposition was not significant. The use of machines distributed among farmers to mix stubble in the soil is yet to pick up.

India has regional responsibilities towards Indian Ocean Region littorals who do not have enough assets to retain autonomy and sovereignty, which are already under threat

MONITORING CHOKE POINTS OF INDIAN OCEAN REGION

VICE-ADMIRAL (RETD) SHEKHAR SINHA

Former Commander-in-Chief, Western Naval Command & CISC Member, Trustee Board, India Foundation

SOUMYADIP SINHA

In a keynote address at a seminar jointly hosted by King's College and India's Centre for Policy Research in September, Senior Colonel Zhou Bo (Retd) of Centre for International Security and Strategy, Tsinghua University, said, "It is only a matter of time before a Chinese carrier strike group appears in the Indian Ocean." He reminded us that China wasn't new to the Indian Ocean and that India must get used to China's South Asian presence.

Strategists in India, too, think the same way. The Chinese warship-building spree leaves no doubts that PLAN (PLA Navy) will be armed to the teeth, first to push the US out of the first island chain and then probably the second island chain. The priority will be Taiwan and supremacy in the South China Sea, and then break out to threaten Guam in the Pacific. After that, since the accelerated warship-building would have afforded China the opportunity of fielding more than two carrier battle groups, it would turn its attention to the Indian Ocean. The preliminary preparations are staring at us—Hambantota on a 99-year lease, Gwadar, a satellite port on the Makran Coast, and an operational base in Djibouti.

By creating naval bases far away from its homeland, China has a distant vision of overcoming its vulnerability to the long logistics chain that the Chinese warships will be exposed to in the Indian Ocean Region (IOR). The advantage the Indian Navy has in the IOR, i.e., unhindered freedom of movement, not subject to adversary surveillance and mounting capabilities of interdiction in hot war situations, may get mitigated in the event of frequent PLAN and Pakistan Navy combined operations in the IOR. The task of the Indian Navy will grow to maintain surveillance on adversarial activities in SLOCs and sea space of our national interest. This will be a serious handicap. What options does India have in today's rapidly changing geopolitical contours?

The US-led free world order is coming under threat repeatedly. The People's Republic of China's (PRC) circus around Taiwan, its open encroachment in the Pacific, and the Russian annexation of four southeastern and southern areas of Ukraine with tacit Chinese support are there for all to see. Except for making politically correct statements, the US hasn't been able to either slow down China's autocratic belligerence or free the areas/countries from their zone of influence. Either the US has lost its stomach to combat these autocracies, or its domestic politics prevents proactive action. The credibility of the US as a dependable military power has been declining since its hasty retreat from Afghanistan.

Indo-Pacific strategies have thrown up several cooperative mechanisms. Some are pointing towards economic security, such as Quad, whereas some have maritime combat confrontation potential, such as the Malabar exercise and AUKUS. However, one cannot rule out the possibility of these three amalgamating into one to achieve the common defining objective of preventing the world from sliding into an autocratic framework.

India, apart from its collective security commitment, has regional responsibilities towards IOR littorals who do not have enough assets to retain their autonomy and sovereignty, which are already under threat. Economic coercion by China in India's neighbourhood, leading to them surrendering their sovereign assets despite India being the preferred security partner to all of them, is a serious concern.

The proactive foreign policy by Prime Minister Narendra Modi over the past eight years has begun to show some results towards mitigating Chinese chequers, but there is much distance to cover. It is probably time for India to adopt all of the government's oceanic strategies. India must utilise its geographical advantage in the Indian Ocean.

Geographically, trade and combatants' entry and exit are predictable through choke points. India also has Andaman & Nicobar Islands standing as a fortress at the mouth of Malacca Straits. A formidable presence in the islands would not only act as deterrence but also provide the ability to maintain surveillance, leading to possible harassment of adversaries' ships engaged either in the transportation of important cargo, which is required to sustain its ability of waging war or worse, an interdiction in an all-out conflict.

Western Indian Ocean surveillance and offensive capabilities must continuously be enhanced with high-tech weapon platforms and systems to retain an edge over the combined adversaries. The capabilities of maritime neighbours must continually be enhanced in the true spirit of SAGAR and the neighbourhood-first policies of Prime Minister Modi. India's actions should not leave any doubts in neighbours' minds that their well-being can be ensured by integrating into the Indian economy and security architecture.

Lord Curzon, the 24th Viceroy of India, observed the importance of oceans for the prosperity of India. He said that India must offer its neighbours assistance which should be the envy of outside powers, and it can achieve that by integrating their economies and security into India's architecture. India's power projected in IOR could also prevent the risk of war on land borders. He had gone to the extent of saying that losing her power in the IOR may prompt the land neighbours in the north to push India southwards. He probably meant that sea power could act as deterrence for adversaries since they would have much more to lose in the Indian Ocean.

India's ability to fortify the A&N islands has now become necessary, given the likelihood of the emergence of a PLAN fleet in the Indian Ocean, as articulated by Sr Col Zhou recently. It is very much in the realm of possibilities that China could have an Indian Ocean Fleet permanently based in Gwadar or some East Coast African country. Our diplomatic policies should focus more towards African countries that are looking up to India for upping their economy and security. This is quite possible within the SAGAR framework.

Dual-purpose airports, ports and basing of surveillance equipment in A&N islands will go a long way toward ensuring maritime security in the IOR. Similarly, our cooperation with Indonesia must receive priority attention. Port development of Sabang, joint patrolling, and surveillance of Lombok, Sunda and Ombai-Wetar straits would provide insurance to both defensive and offensive capabilities. Sound Operated Surveillance System is one such mechanism which can improve Underwater Domain Awareness (UDA). These mechanisms need to be supplemented with Unmanned Underwater Vehicles (UUVs) to reduce the stretching of Anti-submarine warfare (ASW) platforms such as fixed-wing and rotary-wing aircraft and ASW ships.

Southern Indian Ocean island states are key to overall maritime security. A joint surveillance mechanism from bases in those island countries for future networks needs to be given serious consideration.

GANDHI AND THE MANGO TREE

DR JAYARAM PODUVAL

Head, Department of Art History & Aesthetics, Faculty of Fine Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Gujarat

A COUNTRY OF MANY GODS

It was on a trip to South Africa in 2006 when I started to comprehend the greatness and popularity of Mahatma Gandhi. Interestingly, I was visiting Durban for an art show on Gandhi. It wasn't just the Gandhi admirers who visited the show, but the people of South Africa had shown faith in us, even saying, "You are from the land of Gandhi, we trust you." Gandhi had lived in Durban, almost a century ago, but people knew him through the speeches of Nelson Mandela, their beloved leader. They were aware of the fact that they were indebted to Gandhi—although indirectly—for the freedom that they were enjoying. The modest plaque at Pietermaritzburg station declares in a soft tone that this is where a young immigrant barrister named Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was thrown out of a train. Sitting alone at the station, the barrister resolved to fight prejudices till the end.

As we know, the tools of Gandhi's struggle against prejudices were based on Indian theories of 'ahimsa' or 'non-violence'. 'Satyagraha' or the 'truth-force' was sharpened in South Africa along with the successful experimentation of the Gandhian philosophy of life. As a young immigrant, he endured racism in South Africa and withstood it merely with his faith in the power of truth and love. Ela Gandhi writes in Gandhi@150, a book which celebrates 150 years of Gandhi: "His initial encounters with racial prejudice and discrimination affected him tremendously—being treated rudely when he refused to take his turban off in the South African court; being thrown out of the train on the Pietermaritzburg platform because he refused to move to a van compartment; being assaulted because he refused to sit on the footboard of the coach; being refused overnight accommodation at a hotel simply because he was not white. All this happened within a fortnight of his arrival and must have been overwhelming for a young man alone in a strange country. It would have filled any other young man with hate and anger, but not Gandhiji." Gandhi paved the way for racial emancipation and economic liberation through non-violent ways, initiating the Satyagraha in Durban.

In India, Gandhi is somehow dragged into political controversies and debates on the relevance of Satyagraha, primarily because the creation of the icon of Gandhi which was not based on the philosophy of Gandhi. Rajkumar Hirani, the director of Lage Raho Munna Bhai, the popular Hindi film which made Gandhi and "Gandhigiri" popular and cool again, makes a valid point in Gandhi@150: "When I was growing, Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was just another chapter in our school history books that we had to learn by rote for exams. We saw his face in frames on the walls of government offices and on the rupee bills. He was around but he was invisible." A few years ago at Delhi airport, I got into a taxi and told the driver to take me to Rajghat. His reaction was, "Where is Rajghat?" On the other hand, the old man at the Sarvodaya book stall at Ahmedabad railway station (there used to be one there) got excited when I asked for the books on Gandhi. With trembling hands, he rummaged through the dusty pile of books and produced the autobiography of Gandhi with a toothless smile comparable to Gandhi himself.

> Gandhi is somehow dragged into political debates on the relevance of Satyagraha, because the creation of the icon of Gandhi was not based on his philosophy

During my childhood in Payyanur, a small town in north Kerala, I had many opportunities to interact with senior citizens who shared, with glittering eyes, their experience of seeing Gandhi. Many of them had seen him in close proximity—not through traveling thousands of miles—but in Payyanur town itself when he came for a "personal visit" to meet his friend and disciple Swami Ananda Theerthan, a pioneer in the movement against caste-based prejudices and atrocities. Swami Ananda Theerthan had established an ashram at Payyanur for students from the weaker sections of society, probably enthused by the recognition of the town as the centre of the Nationalist Movement.

Even prior to Gandhi's visit in 1934, Payyanur had been identified as an active centre of the movement. Jawaharlal Nehru visited the town in 1928 and ignited the spark of nationalism. Soon after Gandhiji started the Dandi March and the Salt Satyagraha on March 12, 1930, the leaders in Malabar wanted to replicate the Salt Satyagraha. The place they chose was Payyanur. The struggle for social equity had already started making ripples in the Nationalist Movement in India, which urged Gandhi to establish the All India Anti-Untouchability League. His visit to Payyanur was part of the promotion and fundraising for this. Gandhi spoke in a paddy field near the Payyanur bus stand, which is now known as Gandhi Maidan. He also took part in the auction to raise funds, even cheerfully mimicking the auctioneer in Malayalam.

After the auction, he met Swami Ananda Theerthan in his ashram. The latter established the Sree Narayana Vidyalayam or Ashram as it was known locally in 1931. Ananda had met Gandhi in 1928 at Sabarmati Ashram and remained in contact with him. So, when Gandhi was travelling for the promotion of the struggle against untouchability, he had found his best foot soldier in Swami Ananda Theerthan. Gandhi visited the ashram and planted a mango tree which is known as 'Gandhi Mavu'. The tree has a differently-shaped mango which the people of Payyanur named 'Gandhi Manga' (Gandhi Mango).

Years later, in Baroda, somebody offered me a mango known as 'totapuri'. I looked at the mango with reverence because it wasn't just a mango for me—it was a symbol of Gandhi's visit to my small town. And I said to myself: "Here I am, holding the Gandhi Manga in the land of Gandhiji."

Towards progress

Apropos of Attire and the self (Oct 7). It is surprising to read that British airline Virgin Atlantic has allowed their male crew to wear skirts if they wish, and visible tattoos are also allowed. While women in Iran are fighting against donning a hijab, Virgin Atlantic's decision is a welcome step.

Kerala in mourning

The awful accident where nine people were killed after their bus rammed into a KSRTC bus in Vadakkenchery has sent Kerala into mourning. Drivers don't follow traffic rules. My deepest condolences to the families of all the deceased. The state government must take strict action to prevent such tragedies.

Semiconductor industry

Apropos of Semiconductor industry can thrive under robust network (Oct 7). The editorial has rightly pointed out the importance of R&D for a sustainable semiconductor industry. If Indian scientists who pioneer developments in the West can somehow be motivated to help, there could be hope. But the industry must work towards development, instead of constantly relying on government help.

Contempt is colonial relic

Apropos of Define 'contempt' more reasonably (Oct 7). The editorial has correctly pointed out that the concept of criminal contempt by scandalising the judiciary is a colonial relic. Mere social media comments cannot undermine the credibility of the court. It is better to ignore contempt cases and invest time in serving more meaningful purposes.

Tiff with govt cost Tharoor House panel post: Congress

BJP, allies chair rejigged committees like IT, home affairs, health

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

Days after losing the chairmanship of key Parliamentary Committees, Congress Lok Sabha leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said that the Union government's differences with Shashi Tharoor led Information Technology (IT) Parliamentary panel might have triggered the decision to remove him from the post. During Tharoor's tenure as IT panel chief, he had locked horns with BJP members in the committee, besides taking up several controversial issues such as Pegasus, Data Protection Bill and 'summoning twitter officials'.

On Tuesday, in a reconstitution of Parliamentary Committees, the BJP and its allies held sway over chairman posts of key panels such as — Home Affairs, Information Technology, Defence, Health and Family Welfare, External Affairs and Finance. While Congress lost the chairmanship of both the Home affairs panel and (IT) Parliamentary panel, TMC, the second largest opposition party didn't get any. The move had triggered strong protests from both parties.

Sena MP replaces Tharoor in IT panel

Lok Sabha MP Shashi Tharoor was replaced by Shiv Sena MP Prataprao Jadhav as the new chairman of the IT panel. Jadhav belongs to Shiv Sena's Eknath Shinde faction.

In the rejig, BJP MP Brij Lal has been appointed at the helm of Home Affairs panel replacing Congress MP Abhishek Manu Singhvi. Lok Sabha MP Shashi Tharoor was replaced by Shiv Sena MP Prataprao Jadhav as the new chairman of the IT panel. Jadhav belongs to Shiv Sena's Eknath Shinde faction.

Speaking to this daily, Chowdhury described the move as another attempt to muzzle the voice of the Opposition. "The government's differences with the Tharoor-led IT panel might have triggered the decision. The posts were taken away from the party because they are scared that Tharoor will create more problems for them," he said.

Congress leader Jairam Ramesh was retained as the chairperson of the committee on Science and Technology, Environment and Forests, the party nominated RS MP Abhishek Manu Singhvi as chairman of the Standing Committee on Commerce. Though chairmanship for the panel on chemicals and fertilisers was offered to Congress, the party is yet to make a decision. Chowdhury said though he met the Speaker and wrote two letters over the arbitrary action of the government, he didn't receive any favourable response.

'EC can't be dragged into political realm'

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AFTER the Election Commission of India (ECI) wrote to political parties to detail information regarding the financial viability of poll promises in manifestos, former Chief Election Commissioner SY Quraishi said that the EC's constitutional mandate is to conduct free and fair elections and it shouldn't be dragged into the political domain.

The EC, on Tuesday, proposed to amend the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) to add a proforma, which seeks details of revenue generation ways, extent, and expanse of coverage, and fiscal implication of the poll vows made by political parties in the manifestos. The poll panel asked all political parties to submit the information by October 19.

Speaking to this newspaper, Quraishi pointed out that any guidelines under MCC will be meaningless unless the EC is empowered to penalise violators of the same.

The former CEC also argued that the EC should be granted the power to deregister political parties, which flout the model code of conduct. To call it a U-turn by EC is wrong. EC has come into the picture because of SC's direction, he says. "EC came up with the new proposal after being told by the SC. It is not the mandate of the EC to do it. It has no power to punish political parties if they are found to flout laws, and they don't have the power to deregister them. The EC cannot sit in judgment to check whether the parties have adhered to their manifestos or not," he said.

> Nobody can tell whether all parties fulfilled the manifestos or not. There are no economists or experts in EC to keep a check on these. The debate on whether manifesto promises have been fulfilled or not should be happening in Parliament and state Assemblies
>
> S Y Quraishi, Former CEC

He said that though the EC had framed guidelines for political parties in 2014, as directed by the Supreme Court, it failed to have any impact. The case referred to the SC's 2013 ruling in the S Subramaniam Balaji vs Government of Tamil Nadu related to promises made by parties in their manifestos. Back then, political parties strongly objected to the model code of conduct, he said.

"The new proposal is only an elaboration of the previous one, which was issued in 2014. Upon a court ruling in 2013, the EC issued guidelines after consulting all political parties. In January 2014, the EC gave notices to both DMK and AIADMK for violating the code of conduct. But nothing came out of it," he said. In its letter to the political parties, the EC said that though the existing guidelines under MCC require parties and candidates to explain the rationale for promises, the EC observes that the declarations are always ambiguous and routine.

However, Quraishi says that the real forum for debating the cost of poll promises and whether parties fulfilled the promises in the manifestos should be the Parliament and state Assemblies, he said, adding that the EC shouldn't be dragged into the political domain. "Nobody can tell whether all parties fulfilled the manifestos or not. There are no economists or experts in EC to keep a check on these. The debate on whether manifesto promises have been fulfilled or not should be happening in Parliament and state Assemblies," he said.

The new directive comes amidst heated debate on freebies, offered by political parties.

Talking about row over freebies, Quraishi said that the EC's original stand is that it's difficult to define the term freebie. "How will one distinguish between freebies and welfare schemes? The EC had said that one man's freebie is another man's welfare scheme," he said. Earlier, the EC had told the Supreme Court that there is no precise definition for freebies and also said that there is no "precise definition" of the term 'in the existing legal or policy framework. It also said that it is difficult to define the term 'irrational freebies' as both are subjective and open to interpretation.

Freebies can have a different impact on society, economy, and equity depending upon the situation, context, and time period.

GUJARAT TOUR

As Congress chief, I will have remote control in my hand, says Kharge

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

SENIOR Congress leader and candidate for the congress party's presidential polls Mallikarjun Kharge began his multi-state tour in Ahmedabad on Friday, to gather support for his candidature in the Congress presidential poll, scheduled for October 17. Addressing a press conference in the city, he said that if he becomes the party president, he will not be remote-controlled and rather he will have the remote control in his hand.

Kharge said that there is no such thing like 'remote control' in Congress party unlike the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), where every president is selected through a 'consensus'.

Replying to a reporter's question about the BJP's claim that he would act as the "remote control" and "proxy" of Sonia Gandhi after being elected to the post, he said, "Decisions would be taken by our committee, elected members, working committee, and primary board. A lot of people say I am a remote control and work from behind. They say I will do what Sonia Gandhi says. There is no such thing as a remote control in Congress, people take decisions together. It is your thinking. A few people are creating this idea."

He attacked the BJP for not having a culture of electing party president. "How many times has the Prime Minister taken initiative to hold the election for party president's post?

Advocate of women, Dalit, OBC participation

Kharge said that if he becomes the party president, he would try to give representation to women, youth, Dalits, and backward classes at every level of the party, and also appeal to state units to fight polls unitedly. He also said that he would ensure workers below 50 get 50% party posts.

In fact, all the BJP presidents have been elected through consensus. Now, you yourself decide which party wields remote control?" he said.

He said that he would try his best to ensure that 50% of organisational posts are reserved for those below 50 years of age. He said if he becomes the party president, he would try to give representation to women, youth, Dalits, and backward classes at every level of the party, and also appeal to state units to fight polls unitedly.

"I have jumped into the fray to save the ideology of my party, the ideology of Gandhi, Nehru and to strengthen the call for unity given by Sardar Patel," he said.

Shah's power show: BJP upbeat about growing footrprint in J&K

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

AFTER Union Amit Shah's power show in Baramulla, BJP seems to have extended its base in the Muslim-majority Kashmir and the party is upbeat.

In 2014, Shah had visited the Valley to campaign for party candidate Hina Bhat from the Amira Kadal constituency in Srinagar. He addressed one party meeting in Jawahar Nagar area of Srinagar, where about 100-odd party workers were present, that too with most of them hiding their faces. Fast forward on October 5, 2022, Shah addressed a public rally in Degree College Baramulla and at least 40,000 people attended the gathering, making it one of the successful rallies in north Kashmir.

It was Shah's first public rally in Kashmir after the nullification of Article 370 and the large turnout has given a clear message that things are changing for the BJP in the Valley.

According to a BJP leader said, the people in the Valley support PM Narendra Modi's 'Sabka Saath Sabka Vikaas'. "It was a historic rally. People have made Amit Shah's J&K visit historic. These are pictures of changing J&K's politics," said J&K BJP president Ravinder Raina.

The home minister's stopping his speech for Azaan during the rally won the hearts and minds of people both present in the rally and outside as well. He resumed the speech after the Azaan was over amid thunderous cheers from people present in the rally.

According to another BJP leader, the crowd responded loudly when Shah began his rally with 'Bharat Mata Ki Jai' slogan. People also cheered loudly when Shah talked about the availability of free gas cylinders for women, who have hugely benefited from the Ujjwala scheme.

Union Home and Cooperation Minister Amit Shah speaks during the inauguration of Eastern and North-Eastern Cooperative Dairy Conclave 2022 in Gangtok on Friday

Shah also sent a message by removing the bullet-proof glass shield from the stage before his address. It indicates his confidence with security arrangements and that the militancy is on the wane. The ground situation is changing and it is evident as no strike has been taken in any part of the Valley, another senior BJP leader said, adding that stone-pelting is talk of the past. The peace is prevailing in the Valley and the home minister said from terrorist hotspot Kashmir has changed to tourist hotspot.

He said about 1.62 crore tourists have visited J&K this year against 6 lakh visiting Kashmir every year, over 2 million tourists visited the Valley so far.

Senior Kashmir-based BJP leader and former MLC Sofi Yousuf said after Shah's historic rally, rival parties would realize that the BJP's graph in the Valley has increased manifold and that it now poses a serious challenge to them.

He said situation in the Valley has significantly improved in the last three years after Article 370 revocation and people no longer live in fear and benefits of Central and UT-sponsored schemes are reaching to people. Shah has also raised the morale of the police force by visiting the residence of slain policeman Mudasir in Uri in north Kashmir.

His visit to Chatti Patshahi Gurdwara in Rainawari area of downtown Srinagar was also significant.

BJP spokesman Altaf Thakur, who hails from Tral area of south Kashmir's Pulwama district, said Shah's rally would have a positive impact on the ground.

Law Minister Rijiju writes to CJI Lalit to name his successor

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

Chief Justice of India UU Lalit's office on Friday received a communication from Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju seeking his recommendation on the appointment of the next top judge. "As per the MoP on appointment of Chief Justice of India and Supreme Court Judges, the Hon'ble Minister of Law and Justice on Friday sent a letter to the Hon'ble Chief Justice of India for sending his recommendations for appointment of his successor," the tweet by the Union Ministry of Law & Justice said.

Justice Lalit, who took oath as the 49th CJI on August 27, will demit office after a short tenure of almost 74 days on November 8. According to the convention, the incumbent CJI recommends the senior most judge as his successor. As per the seniority norm, Justice DY Chandrachud, who was appointed as SC judge in 2016, is in the line to be appointed as the 50th CJI.

There's also a Memorandum of Procedure (MoP) which governs the process related to appointment of judges in the higher judiciary as per which the outgoing CJI initiates the process of naming the successor pursuant to getting a communication from the Law Ministry. The Minister has to seek recommendation of the CJI at the appropriate time but the Memorandum doesn't elaborate or specify the timeline.

The Memorandum says that "after receipt of the recommendation of the Chief Justice of India, the Union Minister of Law, Justice and Company Affairs will put up the recommendation to the Prime Minister who will advise the President in the matter of appointment".

Justice Chandrachud, son of the 16th and longest-serving Chief Justice of India, Justice YV Chandrachud if appointed would have a tenure of almost two years.

He was designated as Senior Advocate by the Bombay High Court in 1998 and thereby served as the Additional Solicitor General of India from 1998 to 2000. He was appointed as an Additional Judge of the Bombay HC on March 29, 2000 and took oath as CJI of Allahabad HC on October 31, 2013. On 29 March 2000, he was appointed as an Additional Judge of the Bombay High Court. He took oath as the Chief Justice of Allahabad High Court on 31 October 2013.

Justice DY Chandrachud was a part of the 5-judge bench that delivered the famous Ayodhya verdict. Since his elevation as SC judge, Justice Chandrachud has been part of many constitution benches that have delivered path breaking verdicts.

Ponniyin Selvan puts identity and history of Cholas at centre of primetime debates

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN @Chennai

A new week, a new controversy centred on Hinduism has erupted. The latest victim of heated debates on primetime television is famous filmmaker Mani Ratnam's latest movie Ponniyin Selvan — 1, the film adaptation of Kalki's revered historical fiction novel.

The film itself has put a smile on the faces of everyone associated with it, on account of its remarkable success, having collected almost ₹350 crore globally. It has been appreciated for its economical writing, striking performances, and above all, for achieving the impossible task of condensing Kalki's novel of five volumes — which, marrying history and fiction, presents a compelling story about the rise of Raja Raja Cholan/Arunmozhi Varman (played by Jayam Ravi).

Considered South India's most powerful king, Raja Raja Cholan is revered for his able administration, striking territorial expansions, and the creation of timeless temple architecture — including the famous Brihadheeswara Temple in Thanjavur.

It's the identity of this king that has now come into question a thousand years after his lifetime — his 29-year reign having ended with his demise in 1014 AD, coincidentally, exactly one millennium before political colours changed in contemporary India. That seeps into the way primetime anchors, political personalities and social media influencers are setting up a heated discourse around him centering on one question: whether Raja Raja Cholan was a Hindu. Those on the right are celebrating him for being a 'Hindu' king — no doubt, ascribing to him present definitions of 'Hinduness'. And notable personalities from Tamil Nadu, including Kamal Haasan and Vetrimaaran, have weighed in on the side of a historically more nuanced argument: that the notion of 'Hinduism', as defined today in an all-pervading sense, did not exist during the king's time and that those who are projecting that idea backwards are falling prey to the fallacy of presentism. A more accurate label, they say, would be Shaivism — the worship of Shiva — which has an ancient and robust non-Vedic lineage in Tamil lands.

Loving documentary of fabled good time

Ponniyin Selvan — 1 is a loving documentation of a fabled time when the rivers in our land ran full, when the earth had not been plundered. There are lessons to be learned from how life was lived then, and yet, it is a marker of our times that a film intended to celebrate a glorious period in our history has instead resulted in squabbles over an identity nuance

With the resistance to the 'Hinduism' label seeming to be a response to perceived 'saffronisation', it is a difficult debate to settle — and an unfortunate one to envelop a film in. But there is a history to this: a few years ago, a furore erupted over the religious identity of Tamil poet-philosopher Thiruvalluvar after he was depicted in saffron robes in a tweet by the BJP state unit. Some see a systematic politicisation here. Others are offended by the resistance to it. Everything, it seems, depends on where you stand in the political spectrum. In this post-truth era, there are no facts — only beliefs that strengthen your worldview and solidify your identity.

Ponniyin Selvan — 1 is a loving documentation of a fabled time when the rivers in our land ran full, when the earth had not been plundered. There are lessons to be learned from how life was lived then, and yet, it is a marker of our times that a film intended to celebrate a glorious period in our history has instead resulted in squabbles over an identity nuance the film doesn't exactly concern itself with.

Was Raja Raja Chola a Hindu? Was he a Shaivite? Will they even care after the next big release?

Shoot-to-kill order against man-eater that killed 7 in Bihar

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) has ordered the Bihar forest authorities to shoot a man-eater tiger that has reportedly killed seven people in the Valmiki Tiger Reserve (VTR) forest division in Bagaha of West Champaran district.

The man-eater remains elusive even as 400 forest personnel are on its trail, officials said.

On Thursday night, the tiger got its latest victim — a 35-year-old man. The resident of Dumari village was attacked by the animal when he had gone to the field. He was the seventh victim of the tiger attack. After his death, irate villagers damaged a vehicle of the forest department.

Bihar chief wildlife warden Prabhat said an order has been issued to shoot the man-eating big cat.

Earlier, a 12-year-old girl, Bagdi Kumari, was fast asleep in her cot when a tiger killed her at Singahi village in VTR's Raghia range past midnight on Thursday.

When the girl started screaming after the tiger held her in its jaw, her family members woke up but could not do anything as the animal carried her away. The girl's body was recovered from a sugarcane field after the local people started chasing it.

This was the eighth tiger attack in which seven people have died in nine months, a senior forest officer said.

VTR director-cum-conservator of wildlife Dr Neshamani said the authorities are ascertaining if the same tiger has been behind all attacks.

For over 26 days, the authorities have been trying to cage a tiger that has strayed out of the VTR area. The rescue team is facing serious problems as the tiger keeps changing its location.

Shooters have joined around 400 forest personnel in locating the tiger.

"Rain is also disturbing our operation. The tall sugarcane crop has made the task for forest personnel even more difficult," said a forest official.

Sena-vs-Sena: EC seeks Uddhav's response

Poll panel asks ex-CM to submit requisite papers by Saturday noon to prove his claim over Shiv Sena symbol

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Election Commission has asked the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena to submit the requisite papers by Saturday noon to prove itself as the real Sena.

Anil Desai, who belongs to the Thackeray faction, said the party would respond within the stipulated time.

The ECI move came following the announcement of a by-election to the Andheri-East seat on November 3.

The Uddhav faction had sought 15 days to submit its reply, saying it was yet to receive a copy of the rival group's claim. However, the ECI refused to grant more time, saying it had given the Uddhav group the required copy of the counter-claim on October 4.

According to the ECI, Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde has claimed the Shiv Sena's party symbol — bow and arrow — and submitted relevant documents.

The ECI in its letter to Uddhav stated that Chirag Shah, advocate on Shinde's behalf, had submitted the application under paragraph 18 of Elections Symbols (Reservation and Allotment) order 1968.

If Thackeray fails to submit the documents on time, the ECI will take its own decision over this dispute, it said.

The Shinde group's documents to the ECI claim the support of 40 Shiv Sena MLAs out of the total 56, plus 12 Lok Sabha MPs of the party out of 19. It also claims to have 1.66 lakh primary members of the party to justify its claim over the poll symbol.

Uddhav Thackeray (left) and Eknath Shinde at their respective Dussehra rallies in Mumbai on Wednesday | PTI FILE

However, the Uddhav faction has claimed that it has over 70 per cent representative members of the party on its side. As per the Shiv Sena's constitution, this representative body has a major say in the party's decision-making. It said out of 260 members, 160 of the representative body are with the Uddhav-led faction. It also claims that over 10 lakh official members of Shiv Sena have given affidavits of their support.

The Shinde group has extended its support to BJP candidate Urji Patel in Andheri East assembly bypoll. However, in its submission with the ECI, it says the group will contest the Andheri East seat, and therefore, will need the party symbol. Thus the Shinde move appears aimed at either freezing the party symbol for the Uddhav-led Sena before the by-election or claim it permanently. In both cases, Uddhav's candidate for the by-election will have to use a different symbol.

Gulabrao Patil, a Shinde group minister, expressed confidence that the group would get the 'bow and arrow' symbol. He said the crowd at the faction's Dussehra rally proved who the real Shiv Sena is.

"In a democracy the numbers are important and at present, we have the numbers. The ECI cannot ignore the majority support that we have," Patil said.

Anil Desai, Shiv Sena's Rajya Sabha member, said as per documents and the party constitution, the Uddhav-led faction is the real Shiv Sena. "We have regularly submitted documents in our support. The ECI can work out of the framework of the constitutional guidelines. The ECI is an independent body so it has to follow the conventions and law," Desai said.

The Uddhav group has also argued that Shinde left the party voluntarily, so he cannot claim to represent the real Shiv Sena. "It is unfortunate that Balasaheb Thackeray's son, who is the president of the party, has to prove that his faction is a real Shiv Sena," said a party leader.

BJP to field giant-killer Irani in Pawar bastion?

BJP is leaving no stone unturned to better its chances for the 2024 Baramati Lok Sabha seat by planning to field a strong candidate against NCP's Supriya Sule in party patriarch Sharad Pawar's bastion. There is strong buzz in the Pune and Baramati political circles that Union Minister Smriti Irani could be the possible pick. After defeating Rahul Gandhi in Amethi in 2019, the giant killer may be chosen by the party to contest against NCP chief Sharad Pawar's daughter. For the BJP, MLA Rahul Kul – who won in Daud assembly seat in 2019 by a 6,000-vote majority against NCP's Ramesh Thorat – will prove instrumental in furthering BJP's reach in Baramati.

NCP hopes for swing in 40 assembly seats

Poll momentum is gaining traction within a demoralised NCP for the upcoming state assembly elections in 2024. With 54 MLAs presently, the NCP is hoping to get 30 more legislators as per its internal survey. With the aim of 85-MLA strong NCP in the state assembly, the party looks for a swing in 40 seats ruled by Eknath Shinde-backed Shiv Sena MLAs. These MLAs had won against NCP candidates with victory margins vary between 500 to 5,000 votes. The split in Shiv Sena votes between Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena candidates and Eknath Shinde camp candidates will pave the way for the NCP candidates, the latter party believes.

For BJP, roads to BMC not too smooth

BJP toppled the Uddhav Thackeray regime ahead of the BMC polls. Close to striking power in the BMC in 2017, BJP was outsmarted by Shiv Sena in the last leg. Chasing BMC power, BJP began by toppling the Uddhav-led Shiv Sena in BMC. The saffron camp also poached MLAs and cadre from Shiv Sena as well as from the formations of Eknath Shinde – hoping it will help them get closer to winning BMC. But the scene is different. A BJP insider says that there are 55 Sena strongholds where no party including the BJP can beat them. Many Shiv Sena leaders may have defected to BJP, but its cadre is intact under Uddhav.

Guj junior home minister pats cops for public flogging

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT state home minister Harsh Sanghavi on Friday added fuel to the raging controversy over the public flogging by the police of some men accused of pelting stones at a garba event in Kheda district of the state. Sanghavi, during an address at the Gujarat University in Ahmedabad, praised the police action.

"Some human rights representatives are well awake these days. Human rights are only for stone pelters. Shouldn't there be human rights for the small children and women who were hit by the stones?," he said.

He added: "Can't we organise garba in our village chowk? Why is it that there are always human rights only for stone pelters? Now is the time to think."

Praising Gujarat Police for flogging the accused, Sanghavi said, "Now people of the state can perform garba late at night because of Gujarat Police. The state police have done a nice job and people should express their gratitude towards them on social media."

Meanwhile, sources say that after receiving a legal notice, DGP Ashish Bhatia has ordered an inquiry into the incident. Sources said it would also be inquired as to who filmed the incident and made the video clips viral. The Minority Coordination Committee, a voluntary organisation, had earlier sent legal notices to the state chief secretary and director general of police.

The Opposition had also condemned the incident and demanded action after the accused were held tight around an electric pole, thrashed with batons, and asked by the police to apologise in public, as the crowd cheered.

Dissent in Cong over turncoat as UPCC chief

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WITHIN a week of the appointment of Brijlal Khabri as the UP Congress Committee (UPCC) chief, voices of dissent have started emanating from within. State Congress leaders are miffed with the top brass for preferring a turncoat over those who have been slogging for years.

"It's not that state unit of Congress does not have devoted and diligent leaders. But the central leadership has imposed turncoats on leaders who have given their blood and sweat to the organisation. So voices of dissent will naturally originate," a senior leader said.

Khabri, a former BSP leader, joined the Congress in 2016.

Political experts see the appointment of Khabri, who worked with BSP founder Kanshi Ram, as a move by the party to make deeper inroads among the downtrodden classes.

However, most leaders feel that the party needs an overhaul at the ground level. "It would not be able to reap the benefit of caste equations till it plans its revival at grass roots level. Those sitting in Delhi are not able to perceive this reality and are busy beating around the bush," a veteran Congressman said.

Days after Ankita murder, U'khand limits revenue police powers

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

The Uttarakhand government has transferred the powers of all sectors related to tourism from the revenue police to the civil police.

Under the revenue police system, revenue officials double as policemen. Following outrage over the killing of 19-year-old Ankita Bhandari allegedly by her employer Pulkit Arya, the son of a former BJP minister, the focus shifted to the state's unique policing system. It is the only state where patwari and kanungo form the first line of crime investigation, a legacy of the colonial era.

Uttarakhand has an average of one police station for 65,000 people. The revenue police cover over half the area in 11 of Uttarakhand's 13 districts.

Ankita's parents alleged that the case had weakened as the patwari they contacted initially didn't act quickly enough. As a result, the accused was able to destroy evidence. The state government had suspended the patwari and launched a probe.

The government said it has gathered information from all districts about new police stations and posts which are to be opened in revenue areas.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami in his interaction with the media cited the law and order situation across all districts, saying it was necessary to transfer such powers from the revenue police to the civil police.

Hours after the government decision, Chief Secretary SS Sandhu held a meeting on Thursday through videoconferencing with district magistrates and superintendents of police about the new order. He said the new order should be implemented on priority.

So far nearly half of the state has been under the revenue police. Growing tourism has led to a phenomenal rise in the number of hotels, homestays and resorts. Criminal activities too have gone up, police said.

Sandhu has asked the Director General of Police Ashok Kumar to fix the category of heinous crimes. He has also asked for an immediate investigation into all such crimes by the civil police by registration of FIRs.

'Abusing parents fine, but don't do it for PM'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA BJP unit's ex-chief and Higher and Technical Education Minister Chandrakant Patil has said "abusing parents is acceptable, but they won't tolerate a word against PM Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah." Patil, who is known for his controversial remarks, triggered the new row in Pune during a felicitation ceremony.

"Abusing parents is fine – it is common in Kolhapur – but they won't tolerate a single abusive word against PM Modi and Home Minister Amit bhai Shah," said Patil.

Opposition parties were quick to attack Patil. "He can praise his leaders, but he should not damage the culture of Kolhapur and Maharashtra. Leaders should be cautious while praising their leaders. Abusing parents is not acceptable," said NCP MLA Rohit Pawar.

Shiv Sena spokesperson Manisha Kayande sarcastically remarked that "abusing parents is BJP's Hindutva."

Patil is not new to controversies. Sometime back, he had made sexist remarks against NCP Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule. "She should go home and cook bhakari thapa." Patil was unapologetic about yet another remark against Sule in the context of quota for the OBCs. The MP's husband Sadananda Sule slammed Patil, saying he had only proved that his party was misogynistic. Recently, Patil told his waiting party workers to "go home as their wife and children must be waiting."

After BJP's Devendra Fadnavis became a deputy to Eknath Shinde, it was Patil who said that the party had "made the decision with a heavy heart."

CBI submits chargesheet against TMC leader in cattle smuggling case

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE Central Bureau of Investigation on Friday submitted a chargesheet against Trinamool Congress strongman Anubrata Mondal in the cattle smuggling case. The 35-page chargesheet mentions 35 witnesses whose statements were recorded. The central agency has also written about 53 deeds of properties recorded in the name of Mondal, his daughter Sukanya and other relatives, and fixed deposit of ₹18 crore.

In the chargesheet, the CBI has alleged that Mondal used to provide safe passage to cattle smugglers in Birbhum district in connivance with the district police administration.

Mondal was arrested on August 11 from his Bolpur residence in Birbhum district after he skipped several summons issued by the CBI, asking him to turn up at its Kolkata office.

"We submitted the chargesheet 57 days after Mondal's arrest. In the chargesheet, we said that the probe will continue and we may file supplementary chargesheet as per findings," a CBI officer said.

During the probe, CBI sleuths collected statements of the officials of the banks where suspected proceeds of the alleged crime were deposited.

"Money was deposited in the accounts of Mondal's daughter and other relatives. We interrogated them but they failed to come up with satisfactory explanation about the source of the money," said the officer.

"Mondal used to secure safe passage for cattle smugglers. Birbhum district is a corridor between Murshidabad and Malda districts through which cattle is transported to Bangladesh. Mondal, the TMC president of Birbhum district, ensured that no one would intercept the vehicles ferrying cattle in the district. For this, he was hand in glove with police personnel and paid them money from the commission earned by cattle smugglers," another CBI officer said.

KGB-led panel to study status of Dalit converts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday set up a three-member Commission of Inquiry headed by former Supreme Court Chief Justice K G Balakrishnan to examine the issue of giving Scheduled Caste status to Dalits who converted to religions other than Sikhism and Buddhism.

The other committee members are retired IAS officer Dr Ravinder Kumar Jain and University Grants Commission member Professor Sushma Yadav. The panel has been given two years to submit its report to the government.

The vexed issue, which has been hanging fire for years, recently figured in the Supreme Court, which sought to know the Union government's position after a batch of petitions challenged the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order of 1950, which allows only people who follow Hindu, Sikh and Buddhist faiths to be recognised as SCs. The panel's mandate also extends to examining changes that Dalits experience once they convert to other religions, especially in terms of their customs, traditions, social and other status, discrimination and deprivation and the implications of these on granting SC status to them. All of the issues will be examined in line with the presidential orders issued from time to time under Article 341 of the Constitution.

Arguing for inclusion, the petitions cited some independent commission reports, which noted that people originally belonging to SC categories continued to experience the same social disabilities even after conversion. In March 1996, the then P V Narasimha Rao government went close to include Dalit Christians as SCs following a welfare ministry recommendation, by bringing a Bill to amend the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order. The bill, however, could not be passed.

NOBEL FOR EXPOSING ABUSE BY RUSSIA, BELARUS

Peace prize for activist, two NGOs for documenting war crimes and human right abuses

OSLO

HUMAN rights activists from Ukraine, Belarus and Russia won the Nobel Peace Prize on Friday, a strong rebuke to Russian President Vladimir Putin, whose invasion of Ukraine has outraged the international community and to the Belarusian president, his authoritarian ally.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee awarded the 2022 prize to imprisoned Belarus activist Ales Bialiatski, the Russian group Memorial and the Ukrainian organisation Center for Civil Liberties. Berit Reiss-Andersen, chair of the Norwegian Nobel Committee, said the panel wanted to honour "three outstanding champions of human rights, democracy and peaceful co-existence."

"Through their consistent efforts in favour of human values and anti-militarism and principles of law, this year's laureates have revitalised and honoured Alfred Nobel's vision of peace and fraternity between nations, a vision most needed in the world today," she said.

Bialiatski was one of the leaders of the democracy movement in Belarus in the mid-1980s and has continued to campaign for human rights and civil liberties. He is the head of Belarus rights group Viasnaand was arrested in July last year on charges of tax evasion, a move that critics of Belarusian strongman Alexander Lukashenko saw as a thinly veiled tactic to silence his work.

Established during mass pro-democracy protests several years after the collapse of the Soviet Union, it sought to help detained protesters and their families.

In the years since, Viasna and Bialiatski have gained prominence as Lukashenko's regime has leaned on more brutal ways of retaining its tight grip on power.

Meanwhile, Memorial, founded in 1989 by 1975 Peace Prize laureate Andrei Sakharov, is the largest human rights organisation in Russia, compiling and systematising information on political oppression and human rights violations in Russia.

It has also established a centre of documentation on victims of the Stalinist era.

The country's Supreme Court ordered it dissolved in December 2021, and the group on Friday denounced a new court hearing on the issue.

"Right now, as the whole world is congratulating us for the Nobel Prize, a court hearing is taking place at the (Moscow) Tverskoy district court over the seizure of Memorial's assets," the centre for human rights of the organisation said on social media. AFP

Disputing Iran's version, mom says teen was beaten to death

DUBAI

THE mother of a 16-year-old Iranian girl has disputed official claims that her daughter fell to her death from a high building, saying the teen was killed by blows to the head as part of the crackdown on anti-hijab protests roiling the country.

Nasreen Shakarami also said authorities kept her daughter Nika's death a secret for nine days and then snatched the body from a morgue to bury her in a remote area, against the family's wishes.

Nika Shakarami has become the latest icon of the protests, seen as the gravest threat to Iran's ruling elites in years. Attempts by authorities in recent days to portray the teen's death as an accident could signal concern that the incident could further fuel anger against the government.

The bereaved mother spoke in a video message that the forensics report showed that Nika had died from repeated blows to the head. Nika's body was intact, but some of her teeth, bones in her face and part of the back of her skull were broken, she said. "The damage was to her head," she said. "Her body was intact, arms and legs."

Earlier this week, Iran's police chief, Gen. Hossein Ashtari, claimed that the teen had gone to a building "and fell from the upper floor at a time of gatherings." He said that "the fall from that height led to her death."

Also, Iran said Friday an investigation into the death in custody of Mahsa Amini found she lost her life to illness rather than reported beatings. Iran's Forensic Organization said that "Mahsa Amini's death was not caused by blows to the head and vital organs and limbs of the body". The death of Amini was related to "surgery for a brain tumour at the age of eight," it said in a statement. Amini's bereaved parents have filed a complaint against the officers involved.

Other young girls have lost their lives at the protests, but rights group Amnesty International says Iran has been forcing televised confessions out of their families to "absolve themselves of responsibility for their deaths." Agencies

Artist turns Iran fountains red

Fountains in Tehran appeared to be pouring blood after an artist turned their waters red to reflect a deadly crackdown amid protests sparked by Mahsa Amini's death. Activists described the red fountains as "works of art" titled "Tehran covered in blood"

Relatives mourn for those killed in the attack on nursery in Thailand on Friday | AP

Families mourn dozens, mainly kids, killed in day care attack in Thailand

NA KLANG

GRIEF-stricken families prepared to begin funeral rites on Friday for 36 people murdered by a sacked policeman who rampaged through a nursery armed with a gun and knife in one of Thailand's worst mass killings.

After a day of mourning at the scene of the bloodshed, coffins bearing the bodies of the victims—24 of them children were transported to temples to be handed over to relatives.

Thailand's King Maha Vajiralongkorn on Friday visited a hospital treating those wounded—a rare direct interaction with the public for the Thai monarch, who is officially regarded as a semi-divine figurehead. Prime Minister Prayut Chan-O-Cha laid flowers at the nursery in rural north-eastern Nong Bua Lam Phu province and handed out compensation cheques to grieving families.

At one temple, 10 white and gold coffins, some so small they looked like toy boxes, were loaded into fridges in the evening ahead of the customary three days of mourning before cremation.

A young father, his face a mask of tears, staggered away from other mourners after watching his son's coffin loaded away.

The dead include pregnant teacher Supaporn Pramongmuk, whose husband posted a poignant tribute on Facebook.

"I would like to say thank you for all the support for me and my family. My wife has fulfilled her every duty as a teacher," Seksan Srirach wrote.

Armed with his own legally purchased 9mm pistol and a knife, former police sergeant Panya Khamrab began his murderous spree on Thursday.

In total, he killed 24 kids—21 boys and three girls, and 12 adults. Pope Francis offered prayers for all those affected by such "unspeakable violence." Agencies

Fresh audio clip on Imran bid to buy MPs surfaces

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S Interior Minister Rana Sanaullah on Friday categorically denied the involvement of any 'hostile' or 'internal agency' in the embarrassing audio leaks from the Prime Minister's House, asserting that the panel constituted to probe the leaks will submit a detailed report soon.

Sanaullah's comments after a third alleged audio of ex-PM Imran Khan surfaced on Friday, featuring him trying to buy the loyalties of lawmakers and also justifying his action before he was ousted in a no-confidence vote in Parliament.

The two other audio clips, leaked last month, have three Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leaders talking about the American cypher with Khan, the party chairman.

"I am categorically saying that no hostile or internal agency is involved in this. Nowadays, technology has advanced so much that hacking a telephone call is not a herculean task anymore," the minister said.

Sanaullah said the probe into security breach had concluded and the decision to make it public would be taken soon by PM Shehbaz Sharif.

The minister elaborated that the federal government would purchase the necessary equipment to avoid the repeat of such incidents in the future. A cyber security department is being formed at the Prime Minister House to be headed by a director general. PTI

Govt invites bids for IDBI Bank strategic sale

Government will dilute 30.48% shareholding in the bank, while state-owned insurer LIC will sell 30.24% stake

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM), which comes under the Ministry of Finance on Friday, invited expression of interest (EoI) for the strategic sale of IDBI Bank.

The government will dilute its 30.48% shareholding in the bank, while LIC will sell its 30.24% stake, as per the preliminary information memorandum. The management control will also be transferred to the potential buyer. The last date for submission of EoI is December 16.

For submitting the EoI, an interested party should have a minimum net worth of ₹22,500 crore, as per the latest audited financial statement. In addition, it must report net profit in three out of the last five years to be eligible for bidding. Maximum four members are allowed to bid in consortium. The successful bidder will have to mandatorily lock-in at least 40% of the equity capital for five years from the date of acquisition, as per the government.

The Reserve Bank of India would select the qualified interested parties and decide on the amount of equity stake such entities would hold in IDBI Bank. The banking regulator would do the 'Fit and Proper' assessment.

The government and LIC collectively hold 94.72% stake in IDBI Bank. While LIC has 49.24% stake in IDBI Bank, the government holds 45.48% of the shares. Public shareholders hold 5.2% stake in the bank. Post stake sale, LIC and the government's shareholding in the bank would come down to 34%. Based on the current share price of IDBI Bank (₹43), the government and LIC would together fetch ₹26,000 crore from the stake sale.

The successful bidder will have to make an open offer to the public shareholders of IDBI Bank and will be required to put in escrow, in cash, the entire consideration payable under the open offer assuming full acceptance of the open offer, as per the EoI.

BIDDING DETAILS

- Currently, LIC holds 49.24% stake in IDBI Bank
- Govt holds 45.4% stake in the bank, as per the information available in the public domain
- The management control will also be transferred to the potential buyer
- The last date for submission of EoI is December 16
- At current price of ₹43 a share, the stake sale would fetch ₹26,000 cr
- For submitting EoI, interested party should have minimum networth of ₹22,500cr
- It must report net profit in three out of the last five years to be eligible for bidding
- Maximum four members are allowed to bid in consortium
- Successful bidder will have to lock-in at least 40% of equity capital for 5 years from date of acquisition

PAKISTAN

CONTESTS MOODY'S RATINGS DOWNGRADE

Pakistan said on Friday it "strongly contests" a ratings downgrade by agency Moody's, adding that it had adequate liquidity and financing arrangements to meet its external liabilities despite being hit by catastrophic floods. Moody's cut Pakistan's sovereign credit rating on Thursday by one notch further into junk territory to Caa1 from B3, citing increased government liquidity and external vulnerability risks in the wake of floods in August that killed more than 1,600 people and caused billions of dollars in damage. "The rating action by Moody's was carried out unilaterally without prior consultations and meetings with our teams from the Ministry of Finance and State Bank of Pakistan," Pakistan's finance ministry posted on Twitter. Concerns are rising over the health of Pakistan's economy as foreign exchange reserves run low, the local currency weakens and inflation stands at decades-high levels despite the resumption of an IMF funding programme in August. The biggest worries centre around its ability to pay for imports such as energy and food and to meet sovereign debt obligations abroad.

MALAYSIA

ALLOCATES $1.7 BN IN AID FOR LOW-INCOME HOUSEHOLDS

Malaysia has allocated 7.8 billion ringgit ($1.68 billion) in cash aid for low-income households and individuals, Finance Minister Tengku Zafrul Abdul Aziz said on Friday in his budget speech. The government has also allocated 2.5 billion ringgit in welfare aid in its 2023 budget, he said. Malaysia unveiled a smaller budget for 2023, prioritising fiscal discipline over expected populist measures, as it warned of a slowdown in the economy from rising global risks. But the drop in spending planned for 2023 underscores the fiscal pressure faced by Malaysia from declining revenue and rising subsidy costs. In economic and fiscal outlook reports released ahead of the finance minister's budget speech in parliament, the government said it was taking a cautious approach to a "challenging" 2023 due to political tensions, rising global inflation, tightening financial conditions, and supply chain disruptions. Strong domestic demand, new and ongoing infrastructure projects, and a vibrant services sector will offset some of the risks from the global slowdown, it said.

TAIWAN

SEPT EXPORTS DROP FOR FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS

Taiwan's exports fell in September for the first time in more than two years on weakness in demand in major market China and stagnant consumer spending even as chip demand held up, with the government predicting more turbulence ahead. Exports fell 5.3% in September from a year earlier to $37.53 billion, the Ministry of Finance said on Friday, logging a contraction for the first time since June 2020. That was compared to the 2% rise recorded in August. Ministry official Beatrice Tsai said exports were coming off a high base last year, when the COVID-19 pandemic boosted demand for work-from-home gear like tablets, but the "root case" was the effect of high inflation, monetary policy tightening, and stagnant consumer demand from the cooling of China's economy. Exports to China, Taiwan's largest trading partner, fell an annual 13.3% to $15.17 billion in September, after a 9.9% contraction in August, in a sign of the continued economic problems there. China will not release its trade data until October, 14, after the end of the weeklong National Day holiday which began on October, 1.

Up to 80% guarantee on loan defaults by start-ups

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Friday notified the credit guarantee scheme for startups to provide them collateral-free loans up to a specified limit.

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), in a notification, said loan facilities sanctioned to an eligible borrower on or after October 6, would be eligible under the scheme. The Credit Guarantee Scheme for Startups (CGSS) is for the purpose of providing credit guarantees to loans extended by non-banking finance companies(NBFCs) and other financial institutions to the startups to finance eligible borrowers, it said.

"The cover under the scheme would be transaction based and umbrella based. The exposure to individual cases would be capped at ₹10 crore per case or the actual outstanding credit amount, whichever is less," the notification read. The extent of transaction-based cover will be 80% of the amount in default if the original loan sanction amount is up to ₹3 crore, 75% of the amount in default if the original loan sanction amount is above ₹3 crore, and up to ₹5 crore, and 65% of the amount in default if the original loan sanction amount is above ₹5 crore (up to ₹10 crore per borrower), it stated The umbrella-based guarantee cover will provide guarantee to Venture Debt Funds (VDF) registered under AIF regulations of SEBI in view of the nature of funds raised by them and debt funding provided by them. The extent of umbrella-based cover will be the actual losses or up to a maximum of 5% of pooled investment, on which cover is being taken from the fund, in eligible startups.

Rupee falls below 82 against US dollar

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CONTINUING its downward journey, the Indian rupee on Friday breached the 82/$ mark for the first time owing to rise in US bond yields that led to risk-averse sentiment among investors and firming up of crude oil prices.

At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local currency opened at 82.19, then fell further to 82.43 and finally settled for the day at 82.32 against the American currency.

The fall in rupee value is weighing on India's foreign exchange reserves as the country's central bank is regularly selling dollar in the open market to avoid a freefall of the local currency. As per the data released by the RBI on Friday, India's forex reserves fell by $4.85 billion to $532.66 billion for the week ending September 30. The reserve, fallen for nine straight weeks, is at its lowest level since July 2020. Global oil benchmark Brent crude futures surged 0.82% to $95.19 per barrel on Friday, a hike of over $10 in one week, after the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) decided to cut production in view of weakening global demand.

The dollar index, which gauges the greenback strength against a basket of six major currencies, was trading above 112-mark after data showed US employers hired more workers than expected in September. "US jobs data was released for September. Jobs grew 2.63 lakh, beating expectations. The unemployment rate dipped over expected but wage growth slowed a tad more than expected. A strong show has led to a surge in the US Dollar Index, a rise in US bond yields, and an up move in USDINR towards 83.00 on October futures," said Anindya Banerjee, VP, Currency Derivatives & Interest Rate Derivatives at Kotak Securities. He flagged concerns that if oil continues to rise beyond $100, in spite of the US Dollar Index being so strong and US 10-year yields closer to 4%, there can be an additional layer of trouble for the rupee.

Fall in value of rupee weighs on forex reserves

At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local currency opened at 82.19, then fell further to 82.43 and finally settled for the day at 82.32 against the dollar. Fall in rupee value is weighing on India's foreign exchange reserves

Xiaomi India refutes reports of moving its operations to Pakistan

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CHINESE smartphone maker Xiaomi on Friday refuted reports that the company is moving its base out of India to Pakistan due to crackdown on its operations by Indian agencies.

According to the South Asia Index, Xiaomi India has almost halted its operations in the country after being targeted by the Indian government.

The smartphone manufacturer said the tweet saying "Xiaomi may move its operations from India to Pakistan after the Indian government freezes its assets worth $676 million" is completely false and baseless.

Xiaomi, in its statement, said it the reports are completely false and baseless. "Xiaomi entered India in 2014 and in less than a year, we embarked on our Make in India journey. 99% of our smartphones and 100% of our TVs are made in India. We'll take all measures to protect our reputation from false and inaccurate claims," said the company.

The Chinese tech giant is facing a heat from the Enforcement Directorate (ED) because of its funds embezzlement. The Indian government had said it seized Xiaomi's assets worth ₹5,551.27 crore for allegedly violating Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) rules and transferring money in the guise of royalty to three companies outside India.

The company has approached the Karnataka high court and in a petition filed on October 3, Xiaomi challenged the September 29, 2022, order of the FEMA Competent Authority, which confirmed the April 29 seizure order of the Enforcement Directorate. Xiaomi has approached the HC earlier this year against this order too but was told to approach the Competent Authority under FEMA.

5G smartphones may cost more than ₹20,000

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

PEOPLE will have to cough up at least ₹10,000 more to buy a good 5G smartphone, according to industry experts. The experts are of the view that a decent 5G smartphone would cost anything above ₹20,000 to consumers.

"You can say that a great 4G phone today can be purchased at 12,000 but a great 5G without any compromises can be purchased at 22,000," said Taun Pathak, Research Director, Counterpoint Research.

As telecom operators have started rolling out 5G services in the country, the sale of 5G smartphones is going to increase manifold.

According to Counterpoint Research, 5G smartphones contributed to 31% of shipments during Aug 2022, and they are expected to reach 35% by end of 2022. The research also noted that one out of every three Smartphones sold during the festive season will be 5G enabled.

It means there are good days for the smartphone makers in the country but not for the consumers.

Faisal Kawoosa, founder and chief analyst at researcher TechARC says 5G smartphones prices have increased 15-25% due to supply chain issues and introduction of 5G. He expects prices of 5G smartphones to cross ₹25,000 by December 2022 and users will buy them by default.

"We have built a robust ecosystem of 5G-enabled devices with more than 12 devices that range across different price segments," says Tasleem Arif, VP and R&D Head, OPPO India. However, prices of 4G smartphones will come down after the launch of 5G phones. "The 4G smartphone will still stay in the market for the next 3-4 years but will be pushed to a lower price tier like under the ₹10,000 segment," added Pathak.

Prabhu Ram, Head - Industry Intelligence Group, CMR said while 4G will continue to be relevant, we anticipate 4G smartphone prices to witness price cuts across the board as 5G kicks-off.

Telecom operator Reliance Jio recently launched the beta trial of its True-5g Services for Jio users in four cities Mumbai, Delhi, Kolkata, and Varanasi.

The company said it would roll out 5G services nationwide by December 2024. India's second largest telco Bharti Airtel said Airtel 5G plus is live in several top cities including Chennai, Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Siliguri, Nagpur and Varanasi.

Airtel will cover the main cities by March 2024. Vodafone Idea hasn't yet spelled any details regarding its 5G launch in the country.

5G SMARTPHONE PRICE PREDICTION

- Mid-level 5G smartphones likely to be priced above ₹20,000
- Prices of 5G phones have increased 15-25% due to supply chain issues and introduction of 5G
- 5G smartphones contributed to 31% of shipments during Aug 2022; likely to reach 35% by Dec

Hero MotoCorp launches first EV at ₹1.45 lakh

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HERO MOTOCORP (HMCL) on Friday launched its first electric scooter amid growing dominance of new-age players in the country's small but fast-growing electric vehicle (EV) market and falling sales of its petrol-run models.

Hero has announced launch of VIDA V1 priced at ₹1.45 lakh and VIDA VI Pro at ₹1.59 lakh. The EVs are being launched in a phased manner, with the product being available for retail sales in Delhi, Bengaluru and Jaipur to begin with and subsequently in other cities.

The scooters can be booked in these three cities from October 10, 2022, with deliveries stated to commence from the second week of December.

"While it may have been our wish to launch this product earlier than we have, we had to get it absolutely right for the greater good of everyone," said Pawan Munjal, Hero MotoCorp Chairman & CEO.

Electric two-wheeler volume grew by 211% year-on-year (YoY) and 2.5% month-on-month (MoM) in September 2022, with EV penetration in the overall two-wheeler industry further increasing to 5.1%. As of end-2QFY23, electric two-wheeler (E2W) penetration improved to 4.1%, up 220 bps from the FY22 level, according to leading brokerage BNP Paribas. SoftBank-backed mobility start-up Ola Electric pipped Okinawa Autotech to become the market leader during the month with 18.6% market share in the E2W space.

Legacy players TVS Motor and Bajaj Auto, at present, are not among the top 5 players in the EV segment even as they have been selling battery-run 2Ws for quite some time now.

Brokerage firm Elara Capital in a recent note had highlighted that the growing penetration of E2Ws in the ₹60,000-₹90,000 price bracket is impacting market share of Hero MotoCorp, which in September 2022 came down to below 25% from 30% in September 2021, showed recent FADA data.

Hero in September 2022 also slipped from its top position in the monthly domestic 2W retail sales. As per Fada, Hero MotoCorp sold 2,50,246 units in September 2022 as against Honda 2-Wheeler's 2,84,160 units.

Hackers steal tokens worth $570 mn from Binance-linked blockchain

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

BINANCE, the largest cryptocurrency exchange, has to suspend the blockchain 'BNB Chain', as hackers stole tokens worth $570 million. The crypto exchange said a cross-chain bridge that links with the BNB Chain was hit. Cross-chain bridges enable the transfer of tokens from one blockchain to another. Though Binance CEO Changpeng Zhao said the issue has been contained and funds are safe, this hack raises serious questions about the safety of users' money.

According to data from blockchain analytics firm Chainalysis, a total of around $1.4 billion has been lost to breaches on cross-chain bridges since the beginning of this year.

BNB Chain in a blog post said that decentralised chains are not designed to be stopped, but by contacting community validators one by one, they were able to stop the incident from spreading. "It was not that easy as BNB Smart Chain has 26 active validators at present and 44 in total in different time zones. This delayed closure, but we were able to minimise the loss," it said. "Bridges allow blockchains with different cryptocurrencies to communicate with each other and trade without the need for an intermediary," said Punit Agarwal, founder and CEO, KoinX.

Agarwal added that BNB Chain, originally known as Binance Chain, was first developed by the cryptocurrency in 2019. Dileep Seinberg, Founder and CEO, MuffinPay, Bill Payment & Utility Crypto said there is a need for control and the development of a system that is both centralised and decentralised.

"Cryptocurrencies are not 100% immune. Such instances on a crypto blockchain are inevitable and may scare investors. However, the foundation more often than not takes the necessary actions and finds a way out," he added.

Djokovic to take on Medvedev in Astana

Novak Djokovic dominated Russian Karen Khachanov 6-4, 6-3 to reach the Astana ATP semifinals on Friday where he will face Daniil Medvedev. "I didn't play as well from the baseline as I did in the first two matches, but still it was enough," said Djokovic. "I managed to produce some good tennis when it was the most needed in both sets."

Betting companies continue to flout I&B ministry norms

1XBet, which recently signed an adult performer for promotional purposes, & others continue to thrive in Indian ecosystem despite advisories

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

LAST Saturday, the Road Safety World Series concluded with India Legends coasting past Sri Lanka Legends. The Sachin Tendulkar-led side opted to bat first, made 195 before bowling out the opposition for 162. What, though, caught the eye in Raipur wasn't the names emblazoned on the back of the players' jerseys. It was what was written on the front of the players' jerseys — 1XBET.

After opting for a subtle '1xBAT professional sportsblog' (surrogate advertising) in the form of a pop-up advertisement during the Asia Cup and other events, the betting company were one of the sponsors for as many as three teams at the Road Safety World Series. Apart from Sri Lanka Legends, they occupied substantial real estate on the jerseys of both South Africa Legends and West Indies Legends.

Considering it's predominantly a betting company, 1XBET is already flouting a few laws by continuing to operate in the Indian market. Spooked by the number of advertisements taken out by betting companies, the Central government even issued multiple strongly-worded advisories but that has seemingly had no effect.

In fact, the ecosystem doesn't just exist but it thrives. That's a claim made by 1Win's affiliate page on Instagram. "This region (India) is relevant as it has a high interest in gambling," one of their stories informs viewers. Other companies also exist in India via surrogate advertising.

Nowhere is this more evident than in the Indian Super League (ISL), whose latest iteration began in Kochi on Friday. From cryptocurrency (socios.com) to sports betting news blogs (PariMatch News) to, even, seemingly a news website (Stake News) of stake.com (an online casino enterprise), they are all in India.

Coming back to 1XBET, they are seemingly making a big play to grab even more eyeballs. Their latest move involves securing the services of Eva Elfie, an adult performer. On her Instagram page, Elfie posted a video of her promoting the company. "Bet you didn't expect this!," she posted. "I'm the new ambassador of @1xbeteng which means that there is a lot of cool stuff coming up. I can't tell you everything now, but I'm sure that you gonna like it."

The focus on 1XBET is paramount because they have fallen foul of regulators worldwide. They were run out of UK partly 'because of the use of pornography to promote its service,' as football investigations website Josimar noted in an article. They also roped in the likes of World Cup winners Suresh Raina and Yuvraj Singh, both of whom who played in the India Legends side at the Road Safety World Series.

This daily has learned that what 1XBET did with the three teams is outside the ambit of the Advertising Standards Council of India (ASCI). It's upto the government to do something as this is a case of a sponsorship agreement.

On Monday, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting issued a fresh advisory apropos betting companies. "It had come to the notice of the Government that several sports channels on television, as well as on OTT platforms, have recently been showing advertisements of offshore online betting platforms as well as their surrogate news websites. The Advisories were supplemented with evidences which contained direct and surrogate advertisements of offshore betting platforms such as Fairplay, PariMatch, Betway, Wolf 777, and 1xBet.

"In the Advisories, the Ministry has informed that online offshore betting platforms are now using news websites as a surrogate product to advertise the betting platforms on digital media. In such cases, the Ministry has found that the logos of surrogate news websites bear striking resemblance to betting platforms. Moreover, the Ministry has stated that neither the betting platforms nor the news websites are registered under any legal authority in India. Such websites are promoting betting and gambling under the garb of news as surrogate advertising. The Advisories issued by the Ministry stated that since betting and gambling is illegal in most parts of the country, advertisements of these betting platforms as well as their surrogates are also illegal. The Advisories relied upon the provisions of the Consumer Protection Act 2019, Cable TV Network Regulation Act 1995 and the IT Rules, 2021."

So, does this mean advertisements of these "news websites" stop? Does this also mean sports teams cannot have sponsorship agreements with the same "news websites?" Only time will tell.

A reshuffled Indian batting unit failed to chase Pakistsan's total of 137 | PCB

Harman rues batting failure after Pak loss

AGENCIES @ Sylhet

INDIA women's team skipper Harmanpreet Kaur on Friday blamed their shock loss to Pakistan on rejigged batting order, saying the decision to give batters enough game time before next year's T20 World Cup backfired.

India suffered only their third loss to arch-rivals Pakistan when Harmanpreet's side choked for 124 in their modest chase of 138 in the Women's Asia Cup here. "It was a chaseable target. In the middle overs, we were not able to take singles and rotate the strike. We played too many dot balls," Harmanpreet said at the post-match presentation. Opener Shafali Verma continued to be rested, while Harmanpreet returned to lead the side only to bat way down at No 7 as India continued to experiment in the lead up to the T20 World Cup in South Africa next year. "I think in the middle we were trying to give other batters a chance. You have to do that as the tournament goes on, but it backfired and cost us the game," she said.

Brief scores: Pakistan 137/6 in 20 ovs (Nida 56 n.o, Bismah 32; Deepti 3/27) bt India 124 in 19.4 ovs (Richa 26; Nida 2/32).

Sabbhineni Meghana continued to open in absence of Shafali as she got out cheaply for 15. India also lost Smriti Mandhana (17) inside the power-play. Jemimah Rodrigues (2) also fell cheaply as the inexperienced middle-order comprising Dayalan Hemalatha (20) and Pooja Vastrakar (5) failed to steady the ship. "For me it is important that whoever is new to the side, they should get enough games before the World Cup. It was a great opportunity for others," Harmanpreet said. India last took on their arch-rivals at the Birmingham Commonwealth Games in July, where they won by eight wickets en route to winning a silver medal. "We don't take any team lightly. It is part of the game. They played good cricket and deserved to win. We need to work on areas and be strong," she said.

Pincky skips kurash Worlds trials to pursue judo

FIROZ MIRZA @ Gandhinagar

THE then 19-year-old Pincky Balhara hogged the limelight during the 2018 Asian Games when she won silver in her discipline (52kg). Pincky, who hails from Neb Sarai in south Delhi, had finished on the podium countering setbacks both at professional as well as personal fronts. She had lost her father, grandfather and a cousin within a span of a few months before the Jakarta Games.

What made it worse was her failure to qualify for the judo national team picked for the quadrennial event. She, however, appeared in kurash trials given the similarities between the two sports and made it to the national fold. Rest, as they say, is history.

Kurash is a form of upright jacket wrestling native to Uzbekistan. Two athletes, wearing jackets of different colours compete in it and try to throw one another to the ground. If thrown to the back, victory is declared.

Despite winning the biggest medal of her career in kurash, Pincky now wanted to focus solely on judo. Her preference meant she has decided to give selection trials scheduled on October 9 to pick up the Indian team for the World Kurash Championship a miss. Her immediate goal is to win a judo medal for Delhi at the ongoing 2022 National Games here in Gujarat. The kurash Worlds is scheduled to be held in the country in November this year.

"I know kurash has given me the identity but judo is my first love. Even at the 2018 Asiad, I wanted to represent the country as a judoka but failed to make it to the national team. Now, I have decided that I will compete in judo only," Pincky, who will compete in 52kg weight category at the Games, told this daily on the sidelines of the judo competitions here at the Mahatma Mandir, Gandhinagar on Friday.

Assam's Shiva Thapa (left) advanced to the quarterfinals in the 63.5kg category at the National Games. (inset) Pincky Balhara who will take part in 52kg Judo | EXPRESS

The Delhi athlete also highlighted the reason behind her decision. "Judo is my priority as the competition is tougher in judo and kurash. Then why can't a player compete in both sports in India," she added.

She won a gold medal in her weight category in the senior national championships held ahead of the Games in Lucknow. Top 16 players from the nationals in each weight category were selected for the Gujarat event. However, Pincky doesn't want to get complacent even as she is expected to meet opponents, whom she had already beaten a few days ago, at the event.

"If you play against a player more than once then you know her strengths and weaknesses and it's vice-versa. So it is both an advantage and a disadvantage. No one wants to lose and they are also here to win medals for their respective states. I hope I will give my best and bag my first medal of the National Games," said Pincky, who will be competing in her first National Games. "Given the format, a judoka has to win four bouts to finish on top of the podium and Pincky seems ready for the challenge.

36th NATIONAL GAMES GUJARAT 2022 Celebrating Unity Through Sports

this sport. If I win a judo medal, it's importance will be more. I am grateful that I won a medal for the country in Asiad but ever since I started my life in professional sports, I always wanted to be a judoka."

Pincky, posted as a havildar with the Customs Department, admits fellow players taunt her for competing both in judo and kurash. "What's wrong with it? Kurash is quite popular in Uzbekistan and players are encouraged there to play both

With eye on big meet, Tulika delays surgery

FIROZ MIRZA @ Gandhinagar

AS expected, judoka Tulika Maan, the 2022 Commonwealth Games silver medallist, won the +78kg gold at the Mahatma Mandir, Gandhinagar on Friday. The Delhi judoka beat Kanwarpreet Kaur of Punjab to clinch the yellow metal.

However, her real test begins now as she will fly to Delhi on Saturday morning to catch a flight for Tashkent, Uzbekistan, where the World Championships started on Thursday.

She will be the lone judoka from the country to compete in the event as Sunibala Devi, who won 63kg gold here in Gujarat, pulled out of the event given the schedule of the Games.

The biggest concern for Tulika is her injured left knee. She has torn ACL, MCL and meniscus apart from fractured rib at the left side. "I was suggested surgery by the doctors. It's painful but if I undergo an operation now then it will be difficult to feature in the upcoming events including the Asian Games," she told this daily after finishing on top of the podium.

As per the draws, Tulika is scheduled to meet Radic Tina of Croatia in her first bout at the Worlds. The event offers qualification points for the 2024 Paris Olympics making it important for Tulika. Athletes can earn up to 2,000 ranking points if they win the title at the Worlds.

"It's a great opportunity to earn qualification points but it all depends on how I perform there, especially with the injured knee," she added. Tulika's bout is scheduled for October 12, the last day of the competition.

Meanwhile, Vijay Kumar Yadav of Uttar Pradesh, who won bronze at the Birmingham CWG, beat Harsh Singh of Delhi to pocket 60kg gold. Haryana's Ashish Sangwan and Sachin Singh Rawat of Uttarakhand won a bronze medal each in the category.

Kerala have a blast in ISL opener

AGENCIES @ Kochi

UKRAINIAN midfielder Ivan Kaliuzhnyi struck twice after Adrian Lima opened the account as Kerala Blasters started their Indian Super League campaign in style, crushing a lacklustre East Bengal 3-1 in the opener, here on Friday.

The opening goal was scored in the 72nd minute after a barren first half. Luna latched onto an inch-perfect long ball from Harmanjot Singh Khabra, which found him inside the opposition penalty box.

Ivan doubled the lead in the 82nd minute with a stunning effort when he picked up the ball on the left side and from around the middle of the park, he made a darting run inside the box. Ivan shrugged off a couple of challenges and slipped past the East Bengal defenders with ease. He then moved to the right side and just placed the ball into the right bottom corner.

However, against the run of play, Alex Lima's scorching left-footed pile driver helped East Bengal pull one back in the 87th minute. But in the 89th minute, Ivan's bullet punch from nearly 25 yards sealed the issue for the home team in front of a vociferous crowd.

Modest start by skeet shooters

ENS @ Chennai

INDIAN skeet shooters had a challenging day at office on Friday. In the men's section, India No 1 Mairaj Ahmad Khan was placed 68th after a total of 46 in two rounds in the ongoing ISSF World Championship in Osijek, where Olympic quotas are on offer for the top four finishers.

Gurjoat Khangura was 10 places above the senior pro at No 58 with same total (better Count Back score). Naruka Anant Jeet Singh, the third Indian in the fray, also had the same total and was placed 72nd. The second day is going to be vital for the Indians to gain ground on early leaders. Triple Olympic champ Vincent Hancock of USA was placed 21st with a total of 48.

United rally to beat Omonia, Arsenal cruise

AFP @ Paris

MANCHESTER United avoided further embarrassment after their humiliating defeat to Manchester City by coming from behind to beat Cypriots Omonia Nicosia 3-2 in the Europa League on Thursday, while Arsenal eased past Bodo/Glimt.

Marcus Rashford scored twice along with Anthony Martial after both came off the bench in the second half as United recovered after Iran international Karim Ansarifard gave the hosts a shock lead on 34 minutes.

Nikolas Panagiotou pulled one back for Neil Lennon's Omonia with five minutes to play but United held on for a second win in three Group E outings.

Arsenal saw off Norwegian champions Bodo/Glimt 3-0 at the Emirates Stadium courtesy of first-half goals from Eddie Nketiah and Rob Holding, and Fabio Vieira's goal six minutes from time. The Gunners are top of Group A after back-to-back wins.

TRENDS IN MEDITERRANEAN MIGRANT ARRIVALS

So far this year, the International Organization of Migration (IOM) has recorded around 109,000 "irregular" arrivals to the Mediterranean countries of Italy, Spain, Greece, Cyprus and Malta by land or sea. This has made immigration a hot political topic in those European Union nation

The dangers of crossing the Mediterranean

The back-to-back shipwrecks of migrant smuggling boats off Greece has once again put the spotlight on the dangers of the Mediterranean migration route. Here's a look at the migration situation across the Mediterranean Sea

GREEK SHIPWRECKS

Bodies floated amid splintered wreckage off a Greek island on Thursday as the death toll from separate sinkings of two migrant boats rose to 22, with about a dozen still missing

24,871

MIGRANTS MISSING

Overall, the IOM says 24,871 migrants have died or gone missing in the Mediterranean since 2014, with the real number believed to be even higher given the number of shipwrecks that never get reported

GREECE: AN IMPORTANT DESTINATION

Greece was a key transit point for hundreds of thousands of migrants and refugees entering the EU in 2015-16, many fleeing wars in Iraq and Syria, though the numbers dropped sharply after the EU and Turkey reached a deal in 2016 to limit smugglers

MOST DANGEROUS VOYAGE

"The voyage toward Italy has been confirmed to be the most dangerous," said the ISMU foundation in Italy, which conducts research on migration trends

The Central Mediterranean migration route that takes migrants from Libya or Tunisia north to Europe is the deadliest known migration route in the world, accounting for more than half of the reported deaths in the Mediterranean that IOM has tracked since 2014. The route has Italy as its prime destination

DEADLIEST KNOWN SMUGGLING SHIPWRECKS

On April 18, 2015, the Mediterranean's deadliest known shipwreck in living memory occurred when an overcrowded fishing boat collided 77 nautical miles off Libya with a freighter that was trying to come to its rescue. Only 28 people survived

On October 3, 2013, a trawler packed with more than 500 people, many from Eritrea and Ethiopia, caught fire and capsized within sight of an uninhabited islet off Italy's southern island of Lampedusa. Local fishermen rushed to try to help save lives. In the end, 155 survived and 368 people died

OTHER MEDITERRANEAN MIGRATION ROUTES TO EUROPE

- The Western Mediterranean route is used by migrants seeking to reach Spain from Morocco or Algeria.
- The Eastern Mediterranean route, where the shipwrecks occurred this week off Greece, has traditionally been used by Syrian, Iraqi, Afghan and other non-African migrants who flee first to Turkey and then try to reach Greece or other European destinations

E.U. yet to reach consensus on tackling energy crisis

ENERGY

PRAGUE: EU leaders meeting in Prague on Friday looked to bridge divisions on how to tackle soaring energy prices as they grapple with the fallout from Russia's war on Ukraine.

President Volodymyr Zelensky was dialling in from Kyiv as the bloc looks to maintain its economic and military support for Ukraine and hold a tough line against Moscow.

EU leaders were also discussing how to better protect their critical infrastructure in the wake of leaks from the Russia-Europe Nord Stream gas pipelines that have been blamed on "sabotage". But it was the sharp disagreements over how to tackle the energy crisis that were the major focus of attention as the 27 nations wrangled over the best plan to try to bring down prices.

Europe is facing an energy crunch as the price of electricity generation skyrockets because of a massive surge in gas prices caused by Russia turning off the taps.

Governments across the bloc are scrambling to lower the costs for their consumers, but they rely on different sources for their energy and are split over the solutions.

EU executive head Ursula von der Leyen is proposing a "roadmap" of measures to help ease the burden—including potential moves to cap the price of gas. However, there is no consensus on how any caps could work and leaders are not set to take a firm decision until a summit in Brussels later this month. "Now, it is time to discuss how we can limit the peaks in the energy prices and the manipulation of energy prices by (Russian President Vladimir) Putin," von der Leyen said. "This will be the discussion about price caps, the question where to put them and how to put them."

More than half of the bloc have pushed for the EU to impose a price ceiling on how much it would pay for gas piped or shipped in, as the northern hemisphere winter sets in.

But Germany has so far stood in the way over fears that the move could divert precious supplies away from Europe.

"A price cap on gas if that could be achieved would be grand, with the caveat that we cannot endanger security of supplies," said Latvian Prime Minister Krisjanis Karins.

"We cannot set the price so that no one would sell gas into Europe." Berlin has come under fire from other EU members for dragging its feet on the issue while announcing a 200-billion-euro fund to subsidise gas purchases at home.

The difficulty of trying to curb prices from energy suppliers was highlighted by the OPEC+ cartel's agreement to cut oil production in defiance of Western efforts to starve Moscow of revenue.

That decision appeared to undermine a G7 push for a cap on the price of Russian oil that was backed by the EU in its latest package of sanctions agreed this week. Despite some discontent from Hungary, the bloc has managed to remain largely united in its opposition to the Kremlin.

Celebrity interior designer Vinita Chaitanya on what keeps her relevant, her style and high profile clientele like the Padukone family & Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw

MONIKA MONALISA

VINITA Chaitanya needs no introduction. She has been in the business of interiors since 1988. That's when she established her design firm Prism, which she later rebranded to Vinita Chaitanya. Today, she's known for her love for colour and prints, putting together an eclectic mix of knick-knacks, and fashioning an aesthetic only she can. She defines herself as 'a maximalist in my personal zone'. "It's more about decluttering for me. But I like to be practical by striking a balance," says Chaitanya, who is known for her contemporary-classic style bordering on maximalism.

According to Chaitanya, she lives her life with blinkers. "Honestly, I do what I like and am actually quite confident in what I do. I have seen the whole minimalism phase but I just couldn't understand it. If I don't understand all of it, I don't put a step ahead. I also feel that when everyone was doing architecture, my forte was only interior design and I stayed with that. I do things that I am super fond of. I love to experiment, but I won't experiment with somebody else's money," she says.

When she first started designing homes, those around her just assumed it was a hobby. "Being an interior or fashion designer was a hobby. I started working with multinationals and corporates, and slowly moved into doing guest houses and homes of managing directors. It was a very weird time because many architects were interior designers. I was lucky that I found an amazing set of people to work with. As long as I can be relevant, I am here," she says.

Unlike new-age celebrity designers who often flaunt their connections on social media, Chaitanya is discreet about her clients. While her repertoire comprises prominent names like actor Deepika Padukone, Biocon chief Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, Embassy Group chairman Jitu Virwani and Ranjan Pai of the Manipal Group, she does not disclose details easily. "I've known Deepika since she was 15. Her father Prakash and my husband Chai played badminton together. She may be a superstar to the world, but there's a personal connect between us, and we respect each other as professionals," she says, adding, "It's no different with my other high-profile clients. We've all been friends for a long time now. They reach out to me, and I'm happy to work with them."

QUICK FIX

Grilled bread paneer roll

Contributed by Anila Job, Pathanamthitta

INGREDIENTS

- Bread slices: 8 ■ Paneer: 200 g ■ Onion: 1
- Green peas: 1/4 cup ■ Red chilli sauce: 2 tsp
- Tomato sauce: 1 tsp ■ Black pepper: 1/2 tsp
- Salt : Salt as needed ■ Corn flour: 4 tsp

METHOD

- Heat oil in the wok and fry onion till mushy. Add peas and cook for about 1 minute on medium heat. Mix tomato sauce, red chilli sauce, pepper powder and salt, cook for 30 seconds on low heat.
- For the filling, mix grated paneer and cooked spices.
- Take bread slices and remove the crusts. Roll with a rolling pin to make thin squares.
- Put 2 teaspoons of filling in the centre of the bread. To stick the edges of the bread slice prepare a batter. Take 4 teaspoons of corn flour and 4 teaspoons of water in a bowl and mix it well. You can also spread tomato sauce on bread slices before putting the filling.
- Apply 1 teaspoon of batter on all the corners and the sides of the bread and roll it carefully. Apply butter on top of the rolled slices and grill it for about 8 –10 minutes.

FIT BIT

SURYA YANTRASANA 2

(SUNDIAL OR COMPASS POSE 2)

It is an advanced challenging seated asana that stretches the hamstrings and opens the shoulders. It may take time to enter into the full expression of this asana however practising it helps build patience, focus, stability and self-confidence.

STEPS

- Sit comfortably in a cross-legged position and relax with two or three breaths. Then straighten your left leg on the floor.
- Bend the left knee keeping the heel on the floor knee facing upward and hold it.
- Now lift the left leg with the right hand and entwine the left hand below the left knee and place the left fingertips on the floor.
- After that, lift your left knee on to the left shoulder as high up as possible. The higher the leg is lifted, the easier the pose will be.
- Place the right hand on the outside edge of the left foot. Try to straighten the left leg and simultaneously bring the right arm behind the head.
- Keep your eyes fixed in front of you.
- Hold the pose for 10 to 30 seconds.
- Repeat on the opposite side.

BENEFITS

- This is a hip opener that works on the 20 plus muscles that cross the hips.
- Helps open the psoas muscles and strengthen the core muscles.
- Strengthens the spine strong and flexible.
- It works to lengthen these hips muscles.
- Improves the confidence level.
- Brings energy and confidence.
- With improved functioning of the organs, digestion will be at its best.
- This creates better posture and alignment through the whole body.
- Opens the sides of the ribcage, shoulders and tissues of the lung meridian.
- Reduces tension in the shoulders, tension headaches, stress.
- It is believed to open the Svadisthana (Sacral) Chakra, which is associated with creativity and sexual energy.

LIMITATIONS

Those with injuries to the shoulders, elbows, wrists, neck, rib cage, hips, abdomen, knee, ankles, etc., should avoid this.

Those recovering from surgery must avoid.

Those with issues related to the sciatic nerve or a herniated disc in any part of the spine should avoid this.

SLEEPY HOLLOW?...NAH!

Michael Weldon & Prasad Bidapa

SINCE the planet Mars has moved out of retrograde (according to very authentic sources like Instagram and Twitter), I feel that all my minor health hiccups may be firmly behind me. I consider myself very fortunate because it's simply crazy how many young people (I'm sorry, but I consider everyone in their late forties and fifties young!) have been stricken with major health problems and many of them have keeled over and died!

Yesterday I checked into the newly refurbished hospital which had fallen into a pitiful state of disrepair. A big conglomerate bought it over and voila! With my doctor/friend Dr Sushila Suresh at the helm of affairs we now have a great new hospital in the CBD area. My check-in process was seamless and the duty-nurse was in touch with me the evening before the procedure, making sure that the medication routine was adhered to. I was also told to remove my nail-polish as the anaesthetic would keep an eye on my oxygen levels, by observing a healthy pink colour on my (unvarnished) nails! I had a tete-a-tete with all the doctors who were going to perform or observe the procedure and for the first time I felt like a 'person' and not a 'patient'. Of course I was stuck with a 'healthy' bill which my insurance didn't cover because it was an investigative procedure, but I was happy that the procedure went off smoothly in a clean and caring environment rather than in a place where one contracts more infections instead of curing oneself. All said and done, the dedication of our overworked doctors, redeem the reputation of our pitiable health services. The wily insurance companies and the government that formulates no viable policies for our teeming middle-class should hang their heads in shame.

My favourite couple Virinder and Sheeba Razdan were in the city, with the former taking over as GM of Leela Bharitya City. A close group of friends was invited to partake in a lazy poolside brunch. The peals of laughter must have resounded over the new complex as good friends made merry, happy to be re-united. The funny thing was that this time around, most of us were 'promoted' from being young mothers with teenage kids to moms whose kids were now young adults. The focus of conversation flowed easily from them to us. One thing was clear...we were more than just care-givers. We were powerful contributing women who would make our own 'happy-space'.

Vicky Ratnani & Srijan Wadhera

Food certainly occupied my existence the last fortnight. Taj West End played host to the Australian Meat and Livestock Exchange which featured a masterchef winner Michael Weldon conjuring up some fantastic barbeque lamb chops and other carnivorous delights that Australia is famous for. Of course, Taj West-End played the perfect hosts judging by the happy band of well wined and dined Bangaloreans!

Good friend the 'gastroaut' Vicky Ratnani was conjuring up his magic at Conrad Hotels by adding his fairy-dust to the predominantly Californian style Italian food! The GM Srijan Vadhera and EC Prasad Metrani laid out a red carpet for him and the guests which reflected in the superlative dinner hosted by the poolside.

Who says Bangalore is a 'Sleepy-Hollow' huh?

PRECIOUS bond

As the popular Polki or uncut diamonds jewellery store Tyaani launched in the city recently, owner Rishabh Harjani speaks to CE about their plans for Bengaluru

TUNIR BISWAS

THEY say Bengaluru is a melting pot of cultures. People all over the country reside in this city in the southern part of India and hence, the metropolis has a lot of diversity to offer both in its people and their tastes. One of the industries that is very mindful of this is the jewellery industry. Tyaani, a jewellery brand specialising in Polki (uncut diamonds) jewellery, recently opened a store in the city at Dickenson Road with Maheep Kapoor of Fabulous Lives of Bollywood Wives' fame, being the host of the event. Tyaani was also the exclusive jewellery partner of the 2022 Bollywood film Jugjugg Jeeyo starring Varun Dhawan and Kiara Advani. Rishabh Harjani, Tyaani's Bengaluru store owner, also hopes to partner with films made in the Sandalwood industry as one of their primary goals is to grow as a pan-India brand.

Harjani believes this city's diverse crowd was one of the reasons why they decided to open their store. "Before we launched our store here, we used to get a lot of orders from Bengaluru on our website, which was one of the earliest ones to sell polki jewellery online. We realised that Bengaluru had a market and the demand was high. So having a physical store here made sense as it would help us further establish our brand and in general, people are not very comfortable placing expensive orders (over ₹2 lakh) from just a virtual store," says Harjani, who adds that the city's vibrant crowd also helps them create designs specific to certain demographics.

Tyaani isn't trying to cater to any particular type of customer. "Earlier, Polki jewellery used to be a very sceptical market. So what we're trying to do as a brand is to standardise it and give customers the confidence to buy this jewellery. In fact, before we even sell our products, we give our customers an entire product breakdown and give them a quality-check certificate. As we are trying to further legitimise uncut diamonds, our target is anyone and everyone interested in buying it," shares Harjani, who adds that they also give their clients a guaranteed buy-back on the product.

As uncut diamonds are up and coming in the market and are relatively niche, Harjani feels Tyaani's products have a unique appeal. "While it is true that some brands are starting Polki jewellery in Bengaluru, unlike us, it is not their speciality. So we kind of have an edge as we provide our clients with more variety and much better pricing," he says.

Tyaani believes in continuous innovation, coming up with almost 200 new designs every month based on what the market is demanding. "We have an extensive backend team who base their designs on the various trends in the market. We try to look for common elements among the customisation demands. This gives us an idea of which style might be trending right now and what else might be needed or developed upon," says Harjani.

KANTARA WITNESSES BLOCKBUSTER FOOTFALLS IN THEATRES

A SHARASHAA

RISHAB Shetty's Kantara, the latest from Hombale Films, which was released on September 30, is being called a 'Divine' blockbuster. It is not only setting the cash registers running, but also receiving overwhelming praise from critics, celebrities, and audiences. The footfalls for Kantara across Karnataka have crossed over ₹19 lakh in one week of its release, and continues to hold a record rating on the popular ticketing platform bookmyshow.

Reacting to this feat, Rishab says, "Films are made to entertain the audience, and I'm glad Kantara has done that exactly. Kantara has also done excellent non-theatrical business too. Today, it is overwhelming to know that lakhs of audience are experiencing Kantara in theatres. Apart from collection, how many people come to watch the film becomes more important today. This is something my producer Vijay Kiragandur too had. He was more focussed on the footfall because it means scores of people are watching the film, and that is what is actually overwhelming."

Incidentally, the production house has decided to bring Kantara out in Hindi, and Rishab is currently in Mumbai working on the dubbing process and other formalities. Producer Anil Thadani, who had distributed KGF 1 and 2, will now be distributing Kantara in Hindi. The makers are coming up with the Hindi teaser today and will announce the release date soon. "Kantara will be dubbed and released in Hindi, but the essence of the film will stay rooted and will explore the culture of that coastal belt," he says.

Directed by Rishab, Kantara also features Sapthami Gowda, Kishore, Prakash Thuminad, Achyuth Kumar, and Pramod Shetty in prominent characters. Ajaneesh Loknath has scored the music for the film, which has cinematography by Aravind Kashyap.

The title-teaser of the film, produced by KVN Production, will be out on October 20

Mohanlal to star in Prem-Dhruva Sarja's next?

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Prem's films have always created a lot of hype, and it is the same with his upcoming film with Dhruva Sarja. Backed by KVN Production, the makers are planning to launch the title teaser on October 20.

Meanwhile, Prem shared a picture with Malayalam superstar Mohanlal with a note that read, "We have run out of words to describe what we are feeling right now. The Superstar of the Indian Film Industry and yet Mohanlal sir is the most down-to-earth person. Your support propels us to greater heights thank u so much sir." This has raised speculations about Prem's plan to rope in the Malayalam Superstar in his next multilingual film. The production house and director are tight-lipped about the casting, and an announcement about this is expected soon.

On the other hand, Dhruva and his wife Prerna Shankar are on cloud nine after the birth of their baby girl. He is almost through with the shooting of AP Arjun's Martin and is gearing up to begin his project with Prem.

Veteran actor Balakrishna's Abhiman Studio is back

The production house will be bankrolling writer-director Kiran Surya's second film

CE FEATURES

WRITER-director Kiran Surya is making his debut with Abhimanyu Kashinath's Yallige Payana Yavudo Daari, which is gearing up for a November release. Meanwhile, the director is working on his sophomore film, which will be backed by noted production house, Abhiman Studio, which was headed by veteran actor, T N Balakrishna.

The production house, which has previously bankrolled 8 films, is back to cinema after a hiatus with Balakrishna's grandson Karthik BS taking up the responsibilities.

The makers have approached Tamil actor Arjun Das (Kaithi, Master and Vikram fame) to play the lead, and a confirmation is awaited. Kiran Surya, who is currently in the scripting stage, plans to kickstart the project in 2023.

Double XL to release on November 4

CE FEATURES

DOUBLE XL headlined by Sonakshi Sinha and Huma Qureshi will hit theatres on November 4. The film was earlier expected to release on October 14.

Directed by Satramm Ramani, Double XL is a slice-of-life comedy challenging bodyweight stereotypes. Sonakshi and Huma play two plus-sized women as they navigate a society that 'frequently associates a woman's attractiveness or beauty with her size.'

The makers announced the new release date with a motion poster for Sonakshi's character, an aspiring fashion designer named Saira Khanna. "Meet Saira Khanna. They say she cannot be a fashion designer. They say she is too BIG for her own clothes... but guess what! Her dreams are BIGGER and she's out to achieve them!

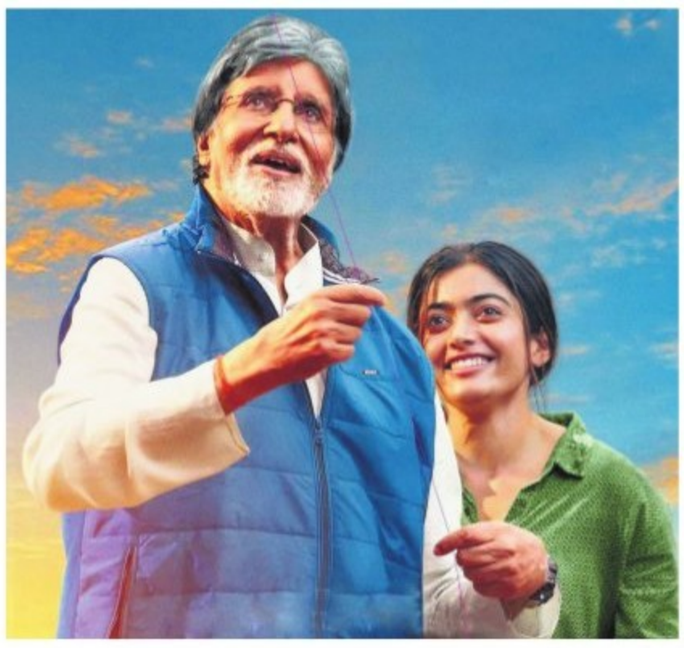
#DoubleXL in cinemas near you on 4th Nov 2022," T-Series tweeted.

The film's two male leads are Zaheer Iqbal and Mahat Raghavendra, paired opposite the leading ladies, alongside the supporting cast. The film was shot in India and the UK. It was conceived by Mudassar Aziz, who is heading the writing department.

Double XL is presented by Gulshan Kumar, T-Series, Wakaoo Films and Mudassar Aziz.

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

IT becomes easier to deal with death if you are a believer. Sure, the body of your loved one decomposes, becomes one with the earth, and maybe that's it, nothing more. It's like a flame getting extinguished, it didn't know how it ignited and can't point to the exact moment it snuffed out. Nobody knows what happens after we die. Do we become souls that find a home in other beings (crows?) or are we just reduced to manure? In a scene in Vikas Bahl's latest offering Goodbye, Sunil Grover, playing a tech-savvy pandit, tells Amitabh Bachchan's family the reason behind putting ashes in the Ganga. It is the mythical story of King Shantanu and his queen. How she took a vow from him before marriage: to not ask questions about whatever she does. How she bears a son and drowns him in the Ganga -- and seven after that-- to release them from the human cycle of life and death. "This is bullshit," says Rashmika Mandanna, who plays Tara, the opinionated black sheep of the family, masking her grief in anger after her mother's sudden death. "It is all because ashes have phosphate and it is good to mix it in the river, for better irrigation of crops."



This tear-jerker will make you call your family

GOODBYE
Director: Vikas Bahl
Cast: Amitabh Bachchan, Neena Gupta, Rashmika Mandanna, Pavail Gulati, Sunil Grover

In a later sequence, the pandit takes Tara into a corner and assures her that what she said was correct. "But your story is boring. Has no beginning, middle, or climax," he says. "Your mother is gone now and all she has left you are her stories. What logic do you find in that?" Maybe that's what we become after we die, memories for those who loved us, stories to be told to others.

Goodbye is the story of a family, dealing with the mother's demise. There is Amitabh Bachchan, the family patriarch, whose lips quiver when he is unable to sustain an argument. Pavail Gulati plays the workaholic son, Karan, whose AirPods are plugged in even when he is taking his mother's body to the crematorium. Elli AvrRam is Karan's foreign wife Lisa, trying to be part of the family. There is also Sahil Mehta and Rashmika as Pavail's siblings. The centre of all these diverse characters, like a bark holding the branches, is Neena Gupta's Gayatri. Sample this scene when the family is sitting around the body, the night before the cremation. Gayatri, like a spirit or a memory, comes from inside and sits with them. Everybody is in their character. Pavail's Karan is seated with his laptop, Rashmika's Tara has a grumpy look on her face and Amitabh looks defeated. Gayatri looks at all of them, smiles and asks Karan, "Mr. Workaholic, got leave from your job?" To Tara: "I asked you to wish Karan on his wedding anniversary, did you do? Now you'll have to remember wishing everyone." Finally to Amitabh, "You didn't get any better photo of me to put?" There is a smiling picture of her, at the head of the body, a glass of red wine in hand. "Remember how much I drank that night?" It is such a heartwarming scene that you can't help but smile, while your eyes well up.

RATING 4/5

The film is laced with nuanced scenes that take its viewers on an emotional roller-coaster. You cry and then laugh out loud, and then feel like calling your loved ones. Even in grim situations, Vikas Bahl's writing finds scenes that make you laugh while you hate yourself for giggling. There is a sequence where Ashish Vidyarthi, as the funeral know-it-all uncle ("Don't teach me, I have done it a thousand times") asks the family to change the direction in which the body is placed. The viewers gasp and chuckle as the family tries to determine where north and south lie while managing to hold the body in place. Dark humour at its finest.

It's commendable how each character has a back story and is ably handled by the actors playing them. Rashmika as Tara shows defiance in the little gesture of removing her jacket when Amitabh looks at her. She speaks a lot through her eyes. Even the house help, just before leaving for cremation, rushes back and turns off all the switches and locks the pet dog "Stupid" inside. Such a minor scene conveys how much the family depends on her. Elli AvrRam is perfectly cast as the foreign wife. She steals the show in a scene where she realises, with teary eyes, that the Hindu meal doesn't contain chicken. Amitabh as the piqued (read: 'Pikued'), mumbling-under-his-breath father, is outstanding. In times like these, Sunil Grover as a holy man ("God is ours as we are his, how can he be upset with us?") is so effortlessly charming, it should be illegal. And then there is Neena Gupta, spreading serenity in every frame she appears in, like a mother's calming embrace.

What the film deftly handles is the subject of death. Everybody learns from it in their own, unique way. Some let go of their hair (and their ego) others their rigidity and stubbornness. But I guess one can never get over the loss of losing a loved one, especially a parent. You might learn to live with death. Pavail Gulati's Karan, in a scene, mindlessly calls out for his mother after a golgappa vendor comes at the door. He keeps calling out for her and the truth sinks in with every 'Maa'. Stop crying stupid, it's just a film.
